BRITISH PROBE OF DISASTER RESUMED

CAPTAIN LORD OF CALIFORNIAN
 ON GRILL BEFORE COMMONS
 INVESTIGATORS.

Others of Steamer Tell of Signals.
 Didn't Know They Were
 of Distress.

By The Associated Press.

London, May 14.—When the British inquiry into the Titanic disaster was resumed, Captain Lord of the Californian, which was near the Titanic when she sank, was the first witness.

The attorney general indicated that there would be a material difference between the stories of the captain and his officers in regard to the steamer seen from the deck of the Californian during the night of the wreck.

Not Titanic.
 Captain Lord said that he was sure the steamer was not the Titanic but a vessel of about the size of the Californian.

Captain Lord said he had not been told that the deck lights of the vessel had disappeared. The commander of the Californian, he said, reported in the morning that the vessel whose masthead light had been seen had stopped during the night but had started at about 1 o'clock and went off to the south-westward, her stern light being seen at 2 o'clock.

They did not discuss it.
 Capt. Lord said officers of the bridge during the night of the wreck told him the next morning that the sighting of the rockets had been reported to him and that he had answered the calls. However, he declared, he could not remember doing so. Lord asserted that if he had known the Titanic was sinking, he would have gone to her aid, despite the ice, although he did not believe he could have reached her in time.

Saw Rockets.
 An apprentice, Gibson, who was on the Californian's bridge, told of seeing rockets and of reporting them to the captain. Gibson testified that at 3:40 a. m., long after the Titanic went down, he saw another rocket.

The witness said that while watching the steamer which was firing rockets, the second officer remarked that the steamer was not firing rockets at sea for nothing and that she appeared to be very queer, out of the water and seemed to have a heavy list to starboard. He did not think the vessel was exactly in distress, but was in some kind of trouble. He thought she was a tramp steamer.

Herbert Stone, second officer of the Californian, who next took the stand, said that when he took the watch he could see the masthead and red lights and a few indistinct lights of a steamer about five miles away. Later the vessel fired eight white rockets.

"Were they distress signals," he was asked.
 "They might have been anything. The steamer might have been communicating with some other vessel, giving a warning of dangers, or trying to reply to the Californian's Morse signals," he replied.

"Did it occur to you that they were distress signals?"
 "After I heard that the Titanic had gone down it occurred to me that they might have been distress signals. But I believed they came from a small vessel which was near."

"What did you think rockets were being sent up for?"
 "Stone thought a ship was in trouble but she steamed away. He told the captain the rockets might have come from a steamer farther away than the one they saw, although as the bearing of the rockets altered at the same time as the steamer steamed away, it was evident they came from her. The steamer just faded away. She did not go out of sight, as if she were sinking."

"You want us to understand that notwithstanding the rockets, neither you or Gibson thought there was anything the matter with the ship?" asked Lord Mersey.
 "No."

Later the witness said he saw another steamer and the first officer remarked:
 "There's that steamer. She's all right."

Counsel for the board of trade:
 "Why should the first officer have said that? Did you say anything to him to suggest that the steamer had sunk?"
 "No."

Needn't Press Matter.
 Lord Mersey: "Did not the very thing happen that you had laughed at?"
 "Yes."

Lord Mersey: "We need not press the matter further."
 Counsel for the White Star line asked that the cross-examination of Hendrickson who had mentioned Sir Cosmo Duff Gordon in his evidence be postponed until the Duff Gordons could attend and have an opportunity to make a statement.

Special to The Morning News.

Norfolk, Va., May 14.—With 300 barrels of crude petroleum and thirty drums of gasoline already in her hold, the British steamer Eva will take on 1000 pounds of dynamite in Hampton Roads. The Eva is bound for Caracas, Dutch West Indies. She carries a crew of 25 men, but none of them appear to know what use would be made of the dynamite when it reaches Caracas. The Eva is given a wide berth by passing vessels.

SOUTHERN BAPTISTS HOLD PRELIMINARIES

500 OF EXPECTED 6000 DELEGATES IN OKLAHOMA CITY FOR CONVENTION.

By The Associated Press.

Oklahoma City, May 14.—Although the assembled delegates to the Southern Baptists' convention will not be called to order until 3 p. m. Wednesday afternoon, meeting of various organizations affiliated with the convention decided today. Three assemblies of the Sunday school field workers conference were held today.

It was stated at registration headquarters today that fully 6000 delegates and visitors from all parts of Dixie will have arrived in the city when President E. C. Dargis of Macon, Ga., calls the convention to order tomorrow. About 500 are here now. Several special trains will arrive tonight and tomorrow. The convention is attracting attention from outside its jurisdiction. A delegation of Baptists from Wichita, Topeka and other Kansas points arrived today and a large delegation from Iowa will arrive tonight.

Strickland Speaks.
 The morning session of the Sunday school field workers conference was addressed by Secretary H. L. Strickland of Birmingham, Alabama, who discussed "Standards of Excellence." G. O. Hyman of Jasper, Fla., spoke on "Uniformity of Grading," while W. D. Huggins of Steele Springs, Texas, dealt with the problem "Associated Organization."

The afternoon session was devoted to addresses by Dr. J. N. Frost of Nashville, Tennessee, corresponding secretary of the Sunday school board, Secretary Untermeyer of Louisville, Ky., Arthur Flake of Baldwin, Miss., and J. D. Moore of Columbia, S. C. The conference closed with an open meeting.

P. E. Burroughs of Nashville, and J. E. Bird of Mount Olive, Miss., addressed the assembly meeting.
 The fourth meeting of the organization at which time officers for the coming year will be elected will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

Pawnees Come Too.
 Friday evening an elaborate banquet will be served for those who have completed the King's teacher Sunday school course. It is stated that 300 will be entitled to participate.

Thirty Pawnee Indians, headed by the patriarchal chief, White Eagle, arrived today and pitched camp about five blocks away from the convention hall.

"We have come down to the meeting of our Baptist paleface brethren," said Knife Chief, a tribal leader, "because their missionaries have been working among us for years, showing us the Jesus way and wanting to show them we appreciate it. This is going to be a big meeting and us Pawnees will enjoy it very much."

To Elect Today.
 The election of officers is the first thing scheduled for tomorrow. It is stated that change in the personnel of officers of the convention will be made. Following the election of officers the address of welcome will be delivered by the Rev. Carter Helm Jones, pastor of the First Baptist church of Oklahoma City.

Four southern cities have entered the contest for the 1913 meeting of the convention. They are San Antonio, Texas; Asheville, N. C.; Atlanta, Ga.; and Birmingham, Ala. The contest promises to be a spirited one.

$1000 REWARD.

We will pay $1000 reward for any information leading to the recovery of goods stolen from us on Dec. 29, 1911, or a proportionate amount of information leading to the recovery of any part thereof. An additional $100 will be paid by the Jewelers' Security Alliance for the arrest of the burglar. Address: J. Levinski, Waco, Texas.

Judgment to Widow Jones

Follows Death of "Casey"

DAMAGE SUIT TRANSFERRED TO WACO FROM MISSOURI COURT. WIDOW AND CHILDREN LEAVE.

(By Percy Vere.)

After remaining out only 15 minutes, the jury in the case of Mrs. Casey Jones versus the Western Pacific railroad company, in which Mrs. Jones was suing for recovery of $15,000 alleged damages for the death of her husband, "Casey" Jones the brave engineer, it returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $1000. The case was transferred to the district court of this county from Claremont county, Missouri, where a mistrial was adjudged about six months ago.

The case has been hard fought and many clashes between opposing counsel occurred during the trial. The testimony as given by Eddie Newton, the fireman on the engine which Mr. Jones was driving at the time of the accident which caused his death, showed that "Casey" had resorted to undue extremes in order to make up eight hours' running time on the late "Western Mail" and had given instructions to Newton to "put in your water and shovel in your coal" regardless of consequences, stating that he would "run her till she leaves the rails."

Mr. Newton was asked by counsel for the defense if he thought Mr. Casey was aware of the fact that there were a score or more passengers on board his train for Reno, Nev. To this Mr. Newton replied that Mr. Casey had said shortly before pulling up Reno Hill that he probably would not "even sow down for that point."

Mr. Newton was asked by counsel for the railroad if in his opinion Mr. Casey could have averted the collision with train No. 4 two miles this side of Reno.

Mr. Newton replied that Casey's orders had given him "right of track" over all trains and that Mr. Jones had remarked to him shortly after pulling out of the terminal that "We may reach Frisco but we'll all be dead."

"When Mr. Jones saw," questioned counsel for the defense, "that the two trains were going to collide, did he say anything in explanation of the fact that No. 4 was occupying the main line in disobedience of orders?"

"Nothing more than that 'you had better jump, for there's two locomotives that are going to bump,'" Mr. Newton testified. Mr. Newton also testified that Mr. Jones was a most fearless engineer and for that reason he had been placed on the engine pulling the late "Western Mail" on the night of the accident.

Mrs. Casey Jones was then called to the stand to testify in her own behalf.

"Mrs. Casey?" asked counsel for the defense, "was 'Casey' always kind to you and did he provide well for you during your married life?"

"Yes, he was a very kind husband," replied Mrs. Casey tearfully, "the morning he left for Frisco he asked me to go to the station with him and kissed me good-bye just before mounting his engine."

"Did he make any remarks to you regarding the probability of an accident on the trip?"

"No, sir," replied Mrs. Casey. "He had not read his orders at that time but I heard him tell the fireman to shovel in the coal for he was going to establish a new record of this trip."

"Mrs. Casey, did you have any other income other than that derived from your husband's salary?"

"No, that was all, but Casey gave me his check each month and pro-

TWO HOUSES PLAN FOR EARLY ADJOURNMENT

LOWER BODY LEADERS THINK THEY WILL BE THROUGH BY JUNE 15.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, May 14.—Plans for expediting legislation to allow congress to adjourn prior to the national political conventions were considered today at conferences of leaders of both house and senate.

The house leaders outlined a program that they believe will conclude the business of the house by June 15. The senate leaders reached no definite conclusions but the finance committee will meet next Thursday to consider plans for clearing the calendar.

House Ready June 15.
 On the side it was agreed that the Panama canal administration should be disposed of immediately after passage of the anti-injunction bill, then will come the naval, sundry, civil and general deficiency appropriation bills. The ways and means committee is to have an opportunity if it desires, to bring in another tariff revision probably on the tariff schedule.

"According to our program we should be able to adjourn June 15," said Mr. Underwood.

Meanwhile on the senate side, Senator Pearson conferred with Senator Simmons, in charge of the tariff bills for the democrats in an effort to fix a time for votes on these measures. None of the senate leaders were sanguine as to an early adjournment, some senators today expressed the opinion that an adjournment on June 15 as planned by the house leaders, was entirely out of the question.

WOULD EXECUTE INCURABLE INSANE
 Physician Advocates Putting Them Mercifully to Sleep Forever.

Special to The Morning News.

Montgomery, Mo., May 14.—On the witness stand in the circuit court house this afternoon Dr. David O. Hudson told the jury that it was his opinion as a physician, and one who also has had experience through visiting the poor farms of Missouri, that the hopelessly insane and incurable patients should be mercifully put to sleep forever.

This is the first time he has advocated this doctrine under oath and on the witness stand. He said the reason he advised this was that Missouri, and other states, especially the individual counties, did not provide for the incurable and hopelessly insane persons as they should; that he had seen them treated like hogs, eating without consciousness of being human beings, and without any hope of recovery.

He testified that the county court and public should either treat such patients better or they should be gently put to death.

Dr. Hudson was called to testify as to the nervous condition of Miss Sylvia Hammett, the pretty young girl from Lincoln county, who is suing Dr. W. B. Bonfils, a prominent dentist of Troy, for $4000, alleging that he tried to kiss her. Both sides of the case have been heard and when the argument is made the jury will have the case. The court ruled out the character witnesses from Lincoln county, claiming that the reputation of the young woman was not being considered.

Dr. Bonfils, himself, took the stand this afternoon and stoutly denied that he had insulted the young girl or that he had tried to kiss her. Dr. Bonfils said he had abandoned the practice of dentistry for the present and was connected with a Denver newspaper. A verdict is expected tomorrow.

A Chain and Its Links

In telephoning, there are three links in the chain that constitutes "Good service"—

1. The Person Calling.
2. The Operator.
3. The Person Called.

No matter how much any one or any two of these links do to develop good service, the result is determined by the measure of co-operation of the third. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link.

If the person calling fails to consult the directory and gives the wrong number, the operator inevitably repeats the error. If the person called fails to answer promptly and the caller leaves the telephone, naturally there is "no one on the line."

Being human, the operator—the third link—is liable to err occasionally, but careful analysis demonstrates that she is not fairly chargeable with many of the difficulties frequently ascribed to her.

If Link No. 1 Gives the Right Number and Calls Distinctly and Link No. 3 Answers Promptly, the Telephone Company will be responsible for its part of the chain. If no higher motive actuated it, the motive of economy or self-interest would suffice.

"Mrs. Jones," shouted Mr. Smith counsel for the railroad, "when you received the sad news of your husband's death, is it true that you endeavored to console your children's grief by informing them that they had another father on the Salt Lake line?"

To this Mrs. Casey Jones made no reply.

"Isn't it true?" roared Mr. Smith, "that you had promised to marry Steamboat Bill as soon as Mr. Casey was out of the way?"

Mrs. Casey denied the accusation but the defense had scored a strong point and it is believed that this was largely responsible for the verdict which gives Mrs. Jones only $1000.

Mrs. Jones will leave the city with her children tomorrow for her home in Fort Worth.

ASKED TO GIVE VISITORS MOTOR RIDES

Waco Auto Men Urged to Place Machines at Disposal of Ad Club Guests.

The following extracts taken from a letter which is being mailed to more than 1000 auto owners in Waco is self-explanatory. The members of the consolidated automobile clubs of the city and county are urged to take notice especially of the appeal and tender the use of their machines to the entertainment committee, that the visiting ad men may be shown the wonders of the "city of actualities" in the center of Texas.

The letter in part follows: Dear Sir:—On the 24th inst. we will be called upon to entertain approximately 1500 advertising men from the four corners of the United States, Canada and a large delegation from across the water. These men are delegates to the Associated Ad Clubs of America. If these gentlemen are treated cordially they will go forth and the name of Waco will be heralded before the world; if they visit Waco and cannot speak well of our hospitality it will be the severest blow ever dealt Waco; therefore, knowing before hand what the result will be, we must act, and act big.

To accommodate this vast assemblage, we must have 300 automobiles to show them the beauty spots in and around Waco and the wonderful possibilities of this country, and we are earnestly requesting you to lend your assistance. On the post card enclosed please state whether or not it will be possible for you to be on hand at the Katy depot at 1:30 p. m., May 24th, with your car to assist in entertaining these distinguished visitors. If you personally cannot be on hand, will you not have your car there and a driver? You will enjoy this diversion yourself.

Please give this matter careful study—you realize what it means for Waco—and let us have a favorable reply from you on the enclosed card immediately.

Yours very truly,

MR. AND MRS. W. E. DARDEN HAVE GUESTS AT DINNER
Last evening found a few invited in for dinner by Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Darden. The out of town courtesy fell to Mrs. Annie Kinnard Hardesty, who is over from New Orleans for a visit.

SHAKSPERE CLUB CLOSING
WILL HAVE OUTING AT PARK
On Monday afternoon the last regular meeting of the Shakespeare club for the current year took place. Mrs. E. M. Dotson handed the gavel to the incoming president, Mrs. F. J. Lennox, and other reports and farewell words announced the closing hour. The play of "Twelfth Night," which has been very much enjoyed, was finished. It was voted unanimously that there should be an afternoon outing, picnic fashion, at Cameron park. The club members will have guests, a picnic lunch and other pleasures. Mrs. R. B. Spencer, chairman of the social committee, with her helpers, will announce the details at the next meeting, a call one for the club. At this time a date for the outing will be named.

MORROW STREET MISSIONARY HAS A FULL MEETING
The last meeting of the Morrow street Missionary society was, as usual, full of business, some strictly business and other details to be worked out otherwise. The most pretentious undertaking for the present week was the response to the request from the pastor that the women take the religious census for their section of the city. This they began bright and soon, yesterday morning. It was decided, and all members will please take note, that the hour for meeting after this will be at 4 o'clock. Mrs. Abbott made a highly interesting report from the Missionary conference at Cleburne, from which she is just returned.

It was unanimously decided to tender a farewell reception to Mrs. S. J. Sweeney, who, after these many years' residence in this city, is now leaving to reside with her daughter in California. The society could not let this valuable member depart without some public demonstration, so there will be a reception in the church parlors on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Sweeney the guest of honor. The hours are from 4 to 6, and every personal friend of the honoree is cordially invited. These friends are many, therefore the occasion will find a large attendance.

THE COLONIAL DAMES

AWARD ANNUAL PRIZE

For several years there has been offered by the Colonial Dames of Texas to the high schools of eight of the largest Texas cities a ten dollar gold piece for the best essay on some subject bearing upon colonial times or leaders. On Monday the award was made for the Waco school. There were nine contestants, both boys and girls. At dismissal there was a request made for all interested to remain to hear the award. Mesdames W. E. Darden and Edward Rotan, with Miss Clara White as the local Dames, were present. Mrs. Darden made a few remarks appropriate as well as explanatory. It was then announced that the prize was given to Powers McDougald, who was requested to read his essay. There was a ringing of America, and adjournment with unmistakable patriotic feeling among the pupils. McDougald was congratulated upon all sides. His paper showed much research as well as skillful handling in the presentation. Benjamin Sleeper, who wrote upon Martha Washington, was very much complimented upon being a close second. The ten dollars last year was won by Ned Boynton. The high school teachers are aiding in every way to make this offer from the Colonial Dames fulfill its purpose.

There are now busy another set of pupils, who are competing for the five dollars offered by the Mary West chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, for essays upon Sidney Lanier or Stonewall Jackson. It is understood that there is much interest and a full roster of contestants. This award will be made on Jefferson Davis' birthday, June 3rd, and the announcement made public at the high school graduating exercises.

THE A. FRIEDLANDER HOME

RECEIVES CONGRATULATIONS

Following the announcement the day previous, nearly two hundred friends called at the Friedlander residence on Franklin street. These pressed forward to pay congratulations to the mother of the home, Mrs. A. Friedlander, in honor of the engagement of her daughter, Miss Sadie Friedlander, to Eli Marks. Not only were the home friends, participants, but several came from other towns to give these same hearty congratulations. The occasion was one of such note that the form of an elaborate reception was observed, the decoration scheme being evolved from the bride and the maid colors of pink and white. The nature of the demonstration was suggested in the omni present heart given to the mold for the ice. In the parlor Mrs. Friedlander, with Miss Friedlander, also Mr. Marks and his mother, received. Here each curtain fall had its heart, the whole being united by marine cordons reaching between the windows. In the refreshment room the natural rosebud filled baskets and vased mantels, the heart effect being reserved for the candy shapes with which the tables were laid over its cluny cover. There was a guest book and this remains a souvenir to Mr. Marks and his fiancée of the first friends who joined in the happy event which they were just making known. Mrs. Abe Frank presided over this social register. Little Misses Dorothy Hart and Helen Marks ushered the incoming callers. Assisting through the afternoon were Miss Pauline Frank, Mrs. S. J. Davidson of Marlin, Misses Nannette Haber, Ophelia Mayer, Ray Marks, Cecile Strauss, Rose Friedlander. Nearly two hundred called.

THE ABERNATHY-LAUGHLIN ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Amid much by way of deep interest as well as pretty appointment, there was announced the coming marriage of Miss Kate Laughlin to Richard Abernathy, both of this city. The hostess was Mrs. T. F. Bryan of South Fourth, who seems to have a predilection for such affairs. More than one bride has told her love's secret in Mrs. Bryan's parlors. This one was disclosed in quite a unique manner. Mrs. Bryan's invitations, it goes without saying, were delivered to the more intimate friends of Miss Laughlin, both maids and matrons. There were the usual pleasures of congenial company with an affable hostess until there appeared from Cupid's land a tiny boy himself with his arrow fairly bearing down under its weight of hearts. This Cupid took the name of wee Master S. A. Rumsey, the nephew of the home. He handed a heart to each guest. When all had been distributed, he gave signal with his arrow, pointing to Miss Laughlin, and there went up a shout as all read from their hearts that on June the twenty-sixth Miss Laughlin would become the bride of Richard Abernathy. There was passed a salad plate and a refreshment cup, from which the bride was toasted by Miss Annie Mullens and the groom by Miss Minnie Elliott. The rooms where this interesting announcement was made were filled with the first nuptials of the season and a wealth of greenery, in color contrast, blue was everywhere. Cupid was dressed in blue, the hearts were hand-painted in blue and other symbols of the faith color were used. The honoree wore a becoming blue gown.

As soon as her classes close, Miss Laughlin goes to Norman, Okla., where, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Lowry, the ceremony occurs, and Mr. Abernathy returns with his bride to his suburban home here.

SOCIETY WELCOMES BRIDE: HUNDREDS CALL AT COX HOME

At the home of Mrs. Ramsey Cox proved one of the largest gatherings Waco society has ever seen. And it was one of the prettiest home appointments ever arranged for a similar event. Naturally attractive in its interior finish and one of the most commanding exteriors in the city, it was natural that this should amass a moving picture in the social world. This time overlooks the delicacy towards the river. At one time it looked out upon a mass of the color carpet on a spring prairie. In this memory there were gathered a wealth of spring beauties for the porch setting. There were drawn the porch furniture into inviting positions, and here many lingered after their respects had been paid within. This was the first general reception to the bride of the home which Mrs. Cox had made. These friends are many as attested by the literal crush, and by the hundreds of baskets in homes now holding the invitation. This invitation read that Mrs. Cox received in honor of Mrs. W. S. Witte, the daughter of the home, who is now a bride. The tiny daughter, Dorothy, presented the card tray to guests who soon sought the hostess with her gracious bride daughter. There was also given opportunity to pay formal good wishes to the two coming brides, now Miss Willie Seely and Miss Marguerite Brown. The cool of the hour gave opportunity for turning a flood of artificial light upon the scene, thus giving a radiance to the gowns of the house party, all in full reception attire. There were roses, roses everywhere, except in the punch room, which was reserved for a tribute to the arrival of the sweet pea as society's favorite spring flower. There was a flood of music from the landing above in addition to the flood of light and of beauty. Mesdames Clarence Hubby and Joseph Mitchell were matrons of the punch room. Miss Grace Cox assisted. The stream of callers amounted to a crush for an hour or more. All received cordial greeting, and all gave good wishes galore to the hostess and her gracious daughter. Dr. and Mrs. Witte slipped away so quietly after their marriage that friends have ever since felt that they had been denied a happy privilege in extending congratulations. The last hour found a number of the men calling and in this Mr. Cox and Dr. Witte were seen mingling freely among the many whom real enjoyment detained beyond the prescribed time for a reception call. Those who had been shown special courtesy in being requested to remain throughout the receiving hours were:

Mesdames E. R. Nash, Joseph Mitchell, Erwin Clark, H. B. Mistrot, Charles Hamilton, Stark West, J. E. Horne, W. W. Cameron, William Mistrot, J. W. Sowers, J. H. Mackey, James Mistrot, Norman Shumate, Clarence Hubby, George McGhee, Ernest Groos, M. A. Cooper, Jessie Gray Smith, H. L. Smythe, Joseph Cornett, R. L. Lazenby, Coke Horne, W. R. Davidson, Frank Wheeler, John Horsful, George Hunter Smith, Harry Lee Spencer, Misses Etelle Horne, Karen Heard, Margaret Horsful, Kate Edmond, Rosalie Sturges, Rose Edmond, Minnie Taylor, Bertine White of Banham, Mary Glover, Eleanor Blair, Nettie May Wilkes.

Society Notes.

Among recent visitors has been Mrs. Sidney Olive, who spent a few days en route from Dallas to Beaumont. After a short visit to Mrs. Calhoun there, Mrs. Olive is leaving for Battle Creek, Mich., with Mrs. Eugene Crowder. Later the summer will be spent at Atlantic City.

The following week will find Miss Annie Allison at home from Mooreville for her summer vacation. Since her visit to Waco, Mrs. Eli Hartzberg has been the round of the five district meetings. She writes of her arrival at home, and sends most cordial letter to the Waco women, appreciative of their courtesies and complimentary to their well-conducted convention.

The spring bulletin of her publishers has to say of Miss Jessie Cora Chamberlain's book of poems, "Rhythms of Nature." In these graceful poems one revels in the wealth of April, May and June, among cherry blossoms, daffodils, buttercups, pansies and daisies, amid oaks and wild vines, inhaling the clean, fresh fragrance of nature's out of doors.

After Thursday Mrs. Sam McLenon and Miss Pauline McLenon will be guests of Mrs. J. S. McLenon on Austin avenue, until their departure for the North for the summer.

There had been favorable reports from Mrs. Charles Slaughter of North Thirtieth, who had been extremely ill, until yesterday. A change makes her many friends quite anxious.

The coming fortnight finds the Taylor home on South Fourth, closed for the summer. Miss Taylor, J. R. Downs and Guy Taylor leave to spend the warm season in Colorado.

Mrs. George McLenon is entertaining the Euchre club out at the Hazen this afternoon.

The visit of Mrs. G. M. Hackler to her sister, Mrs. George McLenon, was curtailed by the sickness of the little son, with whom she returned to Dallas.

During the absence of Mrs. F. C. McConnell, Mrs. Rousseau is chaperone to the home. With the return of Mrs. McConnell the two will take immediate departure for a summer absence.

Miss Inez Keith, now of Cuero, arrives today to be the guest of Mrs. Guy Daugherty at Alta Vista. Mrs. Keith is now permanently located in Cuero, having bought a home there and formed quite a circle of friends. Miss Keith continues a visit to San Antonio by returning here for a short while.

Mrs. Mary Elliott of New York, has joined the Patten household on North Sixteenth street permanently.

Miss Lucile Royal of North Thirtieth, who has been visiting her aunt at College Station, remains for the festivities of the A. & M. commencement. She then returns to Waco, preparatory to leaving for the summer in California.

Miss Josephine James of North Thirtieth, has returned from LeRoy, where she has been teaching. With the first of June she returns with Miss Susiebell James to the latter's home in Mississippi for the summer.

Mrs. J. B. Cornish is preparing for her summer absence. With her present guest, Mrs. Raynor of Pennsylvania, she takes water passage for New York City, and later makes a more permanent stop with relatives in Pittsburgh for the summer.

The Violet bridge is playing this afternoon with Mrs. Alex Sanger on West Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Wise are making ready for their annual trip to Colorado. The principal stop will be at the Cliff House, in Manitou Springs.

Among the visitors in immediate prospect is Mrs. Bloomfield, formerly Miss Pauline Kirsner, who comes from Mississippi for the confirmation of her niece, Miss Mildred Freund. Mrs. Bloomfield promised her visit much earlier, but she has been detained by the flood situation.

With two revivals in progress and one just closed, church going is in the very air.

Mrs. Hunter Stiles is opening her Washington street cottage to the Priscillas this afternoon.

How Waco matrons are going to revel in new homes next season! One can already count them by the score, and rumor tells of others to materialize.

The Thomas Davidson household on North Fifteenth, has returned home to Hempstead.

Mrs. Luke Patterson left on Tuesday for a visit in Coleman.

Miss Sara Gross of Austin avenue, is at home from a week-end trip to Galveston.

Mrs. R. R. Walker of the City of Mexico is on a return visit to Mrs. Ella Lovelace, South Seventh.

Mrs. Thomas McCullough is in Marlin for a few days.

Mrs. W. L. Nelms, now of Georgetown, is visiting her Waco friends.

Mrs. W. L. Perry and Miss Irene Perry of North Thirtieth, went to Whitney yesterday for the Methodist district conference.

Mrs. D. Holvey of Lorena, passed through Waco yesterday en route to conference at Whitney.

Mrs. Harry Cook Fisher of North Twelfth, returned from Austin yesterday.

Mrs. John Dollins of North Sixteenth, is attending conference in Whitney.

Mrs. D. S. Eddins of Washington street, is in Marlin for a few days.

Mrs. E. B. Cornish of the east side, is just returned from a week's visit to Hubbard City.

Mr. and Mrs. William Neale have returned from their few days' trip to the coast country.

JUDGES PREPARE FOR HOT SUMMER SEASON

County and City Jurists Don New Headgear.

El Paso, Tex., May 14.—There are two new hats in the "Ring." One belongs to County Judge A. S. J. Elyar and the other lid is the property of Judge Adrian Poole. These gentlemen yesterday invested in new headgear of the straw type and are endeavoring to keep cool while politics are so warm.

Judge Elyar's lid looks like a small straw stack with a bunch of holes checked out. It has a peaked crown and is patterned after the peon headgear of Mexico. Judge Poole invested in a common sailor, and that is just what it did the first time he wore it.

It sailed off his head in a gust of wind and hit a curbstone with such a jar that several good-sized chunks were taken out of it. He is still wearing it, though, and he declares it to be the coolest thing in town.

WAITER HITS PEVISH ONE.

San Francisco, May 14.—James Larkin, a tinner of 789 Howard street, was particularly about the food served him in a restaurant at Fifth and Polson streets. He wanted things cooked just so and sent back several dishes to the kitchen.

Finally his complaint angered the waiter who served, and when one plate was refused the waiter brought it down on the customer's head with dire results.

Larkin received two lacerated wounds of the scalp which were treated at the Central Emergency hospital.

BLISS KNAPP SPEAKS ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

MEMBER BOARD OF LECTURESHIP, TELLS WHAT CHURCH STANDS FOR.

A lecture on Christian Science was delivered last night at the Carnegie library by Bliss Knapp, C. S. B., a member of the board of lecturership of the mother church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Boston. Mr. Knapp said, in part:

Many people have asked the question, "How do you know that Christian Science is not the result of an opinion?" We might to advantage draw some analogy from mathematics. The text-book writer of mathematics confines himself to stating the facts concerning the mathematical law with such accuracy and truth that when understood and obeyed they may be demonstrated. Even so Mrs. Eddy confined herself to stating the facts concerning the divine law of "Spirit of truth," with such precision and simplicity that when understood and obeyed, they may be demonstrated in healing all manner of sickness and sin. There is it science. Therein is it eliminated from the realm of opinion.

Mrs. Eddy Honored.

It may be of interest to learn that the simple reading of Science and Health has healed disease and sin. This is the more notable since it is the only book since the writings of the primitive Christians to effect cures of mind and body by the simple study and contemplation of its truths. The last chapter of this text-book, called "Fruitage," contains a hundred pages of testimonials in evidence of the fact that the simple study of the book has healed such diseases as consumption, locomotor ataxia, cancers, tumors, curvature of the spine, and so on. In recognition of her distinguished services, the French government has honored Mrs. Eddy by causing M. Briand, at that time minister of public instruction and fine arts, to decorate Mrs. Eddy officer of the French academy.

Says Disease Mental.

Mrs. Eddy has presented the understanding of this Christ law with such simplicity and accuracy that even the children and young people can gain its spiritual meaning which reveals the power and presence of God, and thereby liberates them from suffering and sin of every sort. This is on the basis that the cause of disease is mental. Diseases of a mysterious sort are today on the increase and some are considered by many to be incurable. Christian Science heals all such diseases. It is possibly true that seventy-five per cent of those who are Christian Scientists today have been healed by its ministrations after reputable physicians have given them up as beyond all hope of recovery, and all on the basis of the Christian Science teaching that disease in its cause is not physical, but mental. Consumption, for example, is considered by

HONEYMOON THOUGHTS AS DRAWN BY FISHER

NEWS ARTIST BACK ON THE JOB. MUTT AND JEFF ARE HAVING MORE TROUBLE.

Mutt and Jeff, or rather "Bud Fisher," is back on the job again and "Bud" is married. That explains why the picture stories appearing in The News Tuesday and this morning, are of the honeymoon variety. "Bud" made the "leap" about three weeks ago and since that time, an understudy has been doing the work. Bud's friends, however, are glad that he's back again, and this includes all who have ever followed his work closely.

During his honeymoon, which was spent in Los Angeles, New Orleans and other ports, Fisher made but one drawing, and that was for money, however, and his work will appear regularly, that is if his wife doesn't insist on his staying home at night, and thus prevent him from getting ideas.

ISMAY STARTS FUND.

By The Associated Press.
Liverpool, May 14.—J. Bruce Ismay, managing director of the White Star line, has contributed $50,000 and Mrs. Ismay $5000 as a nucleus of a fund which Mr. Ismay suggests that the earl of Derby, who is lord mayor of Liverpool, should initiate in order to provide pensions for the widows of seamen who lost their lives while serving in vessels of the British mercantile marine.

many to be incurable disease. It is considered that no known drug or medicine can heal consumption in its advanced stages. Therefore, the usual method of today is to resort to what is known as the nature cure; outdoor life, exercise and pure air are resorted to in the hope that abating the white plague, as it is called. It is generally conceded that consumption is largely a consuming fear and manifestly no drug or medicine can cure fear. The Bible declares that "fear hath torment," but "perfect love casteth out fear." One of the largest factors in all disease is fear, and there is no known remedy for fear of any sort, save only the tenderness and compassion of unselfed love. It is that understanding of God as divine love that enables the Christian Scientist to cast out the fear of consumption and destroy its physical effects. On this same basis Christian Science heals cancers, tumors, pneumonia, locomotor ataxia, etc.—heals them permanently. The carnal, so-called cure cannot effect a permanent cure because this carnal mind is the source, origin and cause of disease, and the same mind which produces disease cannot destroy it. If there seems to be a cure it is a case of a greater error covering up but not healing a lesser error.

STOCK AND BOND LAW CHANGE IS DISCUSSED

Y. M. B. L. DIRECTORS TO CONSIDER SPURLIN PROPOSITION FOR IMPROVEMENT.

City Physician Would Cut Down the Death Rate—One Hotel "Promoter" and $20 Gone.

Consideration of a resolution asking the amendment of the stock and bond law of Texas, as advocated by John L. Spurlin, promoter of the Waco-Beaumont railroad, and the presentation by Dr. E. Toomin, city physician, of clean-up plans for the city, in addition to the employment of a nurse to teach mothers how to properly care for their children, marked the meeting last night of members of the Young Men's Business league. Mr. Spurlin went into his proposition at great length, explaining its necessity in order to induce the building of more railroads in the state. Under existing clauses of the stock and bond law, a railroad must first be built and the bonds sold afterward. After considerable discussion the resolution was referred to the board of directors of the league for action.

Mr. Spurlin arrived in the city yesterday on his return from Beaumont, and leaves this morning for his home in Hamilton. He remained over last night to present the proposition to the club, and wants a Waco club to have the honor of first endorsing it. He feels considerably encouraged as a result of the meeting at Beaumont last Saturday, and believes much sentiment in favor of the road has been secured. He has a number of conferences arranged with prominent railroad men for the next week.

Wants Action. The resolution which he asked endorsed recites:

Whereas, There is urgent need for additional railroad mileage in Texas and for an improvement of the existing railroads in the state; and

Whereas, The bonds of several Texas railroad companies will soon mature and they will desire to execute other bonds in lieu thereof of the same face value; and

Whereas, The present stock and bond law of Texas is an impediment to the accomplishment of these ends; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That we favor and urge upon the next legislature the importance of enacting a law so amending the stock and bond law as

(a) To authorize railroad companies to execute and sell in advance of construction bonds or other obligations secured by a lien upon the railroads to be constructed with the proceeds of the sale of such bonds or other obligations.

(b) To authorize railroad companies to issue bonds or other obligations secured by a lien upon permanent additions, betterments and improvements, for the purpose of making such additions, betterments and improvements, said bonds to be authorized without reference to the amount of prior outstanding lien obligations.

(c) To authorize any railroad company whose bonds or any part thereof were issued prior to the passage of the Texas stock and bond law, upon maturity thereof refund the same, dollar for dollar.

The issuance of all such bonds should, of course, be surrounded with such safeguards as may be deemed proper and adequate for the protection of the public against fictitious issues of indebtedness and to insure the use of the money secured from the proceeds of the sale thereof for the purpose for which the bonds were issued.

Would Cut Death Rate.

Dr. E. Toomin, city physician, asked the endorsement of the league in the clean-up campaign which will be carried out in Waco next week. North of Austin avenue is scheduled to be spotless after Monday night, Tuesday is clean-up day south of Austin avenue, and Thursday is "wash day" in East Waco. Dr. Toomin also advocated the employment by the city of a nurse to visit and teach mothers in poor circumstances as to the proper care of infants and small children. By doing this, Dr. Toomin says, the death rate will be cut down, as it has been in other cities. In this connection he urged that stringent measures be adopted to insure the greatest possible purity in the milk supply.

THREE CITIES WANT NEXT MEETING

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS AND SISTERS BUSILY ENGAGED IN GRAND LODGE WORK.

Conventions Formally Open Tuesday With Welcoming Addresses, Reports Made.

Election of grand lodge officers and selection of the next meeting place, in addition to various features of lodge work, will mark the sessions today of the grand lodge of the Knights of Pythias and the grand temple of the Pythian Sisters of Texas, the two branches of the organization holding conventions in Waco.

Many prominent knights are being mentioned for the offices, and Corpus Christi, Texarkana and Brownwood are after the 1913 convention. The program for the grand lodge today includes:

9 a. m.—Session of grand lodge, Cotton Palace.

Panoramic photograph of grand lodge Wednesday noon at Cotton Palace.

12 noon to 2 p. m.—Lunch, in which the grand lodge will be guests of Cowan lodge No. 77.

2 p. m.—Session of grand lodge, Cotton Palace.

5 to 9 p. m.—Contest for friendship medal, now held by Brother Tom May, Ennis No. 11.

9 p. m.—Adjournment to attend school of instruction and exemplification of the secret work by degree team of Crawford temple No. 65.

Pythian Sisters, of Crawford, Texas.

The program for the grand temple of Pythian Sisters today follows:

9 a. m.—Grand temple session, Castle hall.

2 p. m.—Memorial hour. Open session. Public invited. Castle hall.

3 p. m.—Grand temple session.

8:30 p. m.—Exemplification of the secret work by Crawford temple No. 65, at Castle hall. All members invited. Applications for membership will be received.

Welcomes Cordial.

The two conventions were formally opened Tuesday morning in joint session at the Cotton Palace, where welcoming addresses were made by Mayor J. H. Mackey, Pat M. Neff and A. R. McCollum. Responses were made by Judge R. H. Buck of Fort Worth and Mrs. E. R. Maloney. Hon. Robert H. Rogers, grand tribune, presided over the meeting. The rest of the day's program was devoted to lodge work.

Fort Worth and Marlin teams were entries last night in the contest by competing rank, amplified form teams, which was held at the Cotton Palace, and it is said that the Fort Worth team will obtain the prize. Memorial services were held at the Cotton Palace by the grand lodge Tuesday afternoon, and many words of tenderness for the departed ones were expressed.

The institution of a number of new lodges was recited in the annual report of Judge R. H. Buck, grand chancellor, read yesterday. The new lodges are Fort Lavaca, Hubbard, Lambrosi, Fort Stockton, Mon Ami, New Castle, Iredell, Ocean View, Lyons, Mission, Rosenberg and Yorktown. Charters of twenty-six former lodges have been revoked, the report also recited.

Henry Miller, grand keeper of the records and seal, reported 25,437 members at the present time.

LAST OF THE FRENCH AUTO BANDITS KILLED

ed to the attic from which they directed a steady fusillade.

Trains from Paris conveying working people to their homes slowly passed over the bridge, affording thousands a view of the fight.

Another bomb was exploded. Despite the fact that the villa cracked and was badly damaged, it remained standing and a seemingly inexhaustible hail of lead continued to pour from within.

After a time firing ceased, the bandits either being exhausted or saving their ammunition while the soldiers were forced to discontinue pending the arrival of a new stock of cartridges from Fort Nogent.

At 11:25 two more dynamite cartridges were exploded and a portion of one of the walls toppled over. Nevertheless the bandits apparently succeeded in finding shelter in what remained of the structure.

Leaves Yawning Opening.

The explosion left a yawning opening in the villa through which police dogs sprang while the police and troops sent volley after volley of shots into the ruins of the building.

Some of the bullets ricocheted from the bricks while others emerged on the opposite side, the result of which was that two policemen were wounded. Then an armed force holding torches rushed into the building and found the two bandits on the floor in a room. One

FREDERICK OF DENMARK IS DEAD

MONARCH DIES AT HAMBURG PALACE FOLLOWING SUDDEN ILLNESS.

Ascended Danish Throne in 1906 After Death of His Father, King Christian IX.

By The Associated Press.

London, May 15.—King Frederick VIII of Denmark, died suddenly this morning at Hamburg.

By The Associated Press.

Hamburg, May 15.—King Frederick of Denmark took ill at the Hamburg palace and died late last night.

Christian Frederick was proclaimed king of Denmark as Frederick VIII on June 30, 1906, after the death of Christian IX the aged king who was the dean of the crowned heads of Europe, father of King George of Greece, of the Queen mother Alexandra of Great Britain, the Empress Dowager of Russia, and grandfather of King Haakon of Norway.

King Frederick VIII was born at Copenhagen June 3, 1843. He was as popular with the people of Denmark as was his father. By the wish of his parents he was brought up with great simplicity. Frederick saw his younger brother and his own son become reigning monarchs of Greece and Norway respectively, while he himself was still an heir apparent.

King Frederick was noted for his culture and possessed many foreign distinctions. While seldom openly identifying himself with political questions, he took an active part in all public movements. He was at one time chancellor of Copenhagen University and a Free Mason of high rank. He was well known as a promoter of philanthropic objects. His interest in the army of which he once was inspector general, was keen and he introduced many reforms which improved the condition of the soldiers.

He suffered a serious illness. While taking his customary walk he had a sudden seizure and was compelled to return to the palace. Later it was announced that he had suffered a chill but the real nature of his malady was not disclosed.

While he showed rapid recovery, he suffered a relapse two weeks later and considerable anxiety was expressed by members of the court as to his condition.

He was entirely naked save for a few tattered rags. He appeared to be dead. Callette was dead or dying. The crowd, now wildly enraged, rushed up and tried to seize the bandits. With great difficulty the police drove them back and placed the wounded men in automobiles. The automobile halted as they were started away and efforts were again made by the mob to tear the desperadoes from the troops. Hundreds surrounded the prefect of police and with cries of "Viva Lepine" tried to carry him off in triumph.

Local News Notes

Hal V. Hays, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Hays, who was recently promoted to the position of special agent and adjuster for the Hays Bros. Insurance agency, made his initial trip Tuesday.

Judge W. E. Ramsey, candidate for governor, was a Waco visitor last night. Notwithstanding the fact that he may be governor, Judge Ramsey had considerable trouble last night in securing a room and made the rounds of the hotels. He was finally cared for. He leaves this morning for the south, where he will make a number of speeches.

W. M. Imboden of Texas, candidate for lieutenant-governor, spent the night in the city, being registered at the Natatorium.

D. G. Hickman of Miami, is in Waco to attend the grand lodge of the Knights of Pythias.

A. T. Powell of Fort Worth, a prominent broker, was in the city last night.

C. H. Powell, cashier of the First National Bank of San Angelo, and J. V. Clement of the same bank, are in Waco to attend the Pythian meeting.

COLORADO PYTHIAN LODGE CONTESTS INSURANCE CLAIM

Alleged Richard Brown Didn't Specify Who Was to Be the Beneficiary.

Alleging that when Richard Brown, a negro, joined the colored Knights of Pythias, more than 15 years ago, he failed to specify to whom $500, the amount of insurance on his life, should be paid after his death, the grand lodge of the Colored Knights of Pythias Tuesday in the Nineteenth district court filed suit against Ruth Brown, et al, a surviving daughter of Brown, and others, in an effort to secure a proper distribution of the insurance money. Attorney J. D. Williamson represents the plaintiff.

MARY STREET STORM SEWER NOW CERTAIN

COTTON BELT TO SHARE EXPENSE WITH CITY—KATY TO DO DOUBLE-TRACKING.

That the much discussed Mary street storm sewer, which has engaged the attention of the city commissioners will be built soon, was decided at a meeting of the city commissioners Tuesday morning following a conference between the commissioners and Chief Engineer C. E. Purder of the Cotton Belt and President F. H. Britton of the same road, who appeared before the board. It was agreed that the cost of the sewer should be borne equally between the railroad and the city. The railroad agreed to remove and replace all tracks which may be in the path of the sewer.

The work will be done by contract and Chief Engineer Purder and City Engineer Stephen Turner will assist in securing satisfactory bids on the work. The sewer will be 6 feet in diameter where it empties into the river, tapering from a diameter of two feet at the beginning in the vicinity of Eleventh and Mary streets.

Chief Engineer Alex Atcheson of the Katy railroad, accompanied by W. H. Hoffman, W. W. Cameron and R. W. Carroll and others, appeared before the commissioners and requested the city to grant the railroad a franchise right over 14 feet additional space on the north side of Jackson street from Thirteenth street to Sixteenth street, in connection with some double tracking, which the road proposes to put in to relieve the congestion in the switching district. The request received favor at the hands of the commissioners, and City Attorney Williams was instructed to prepare an ordinance to that effect. The ordinance will be presented at the Friday morning meeting of the board.

Galveston, May 14.—Waco made it three straight here this afternoon, taking the last game of the series with the Band Crabs by a score of 2 to 1. The visitors were outplayed and outplayed, and it was pure luck that gave them the contest. A question of a decision, combined with a two-bagger in the seventh, gave them the run which tied the score, and in the eighth two walks, a sacrifice hit and a sacrifice fly gave them their winning count. The locals fought hard, but could not hit the ball in the pinches. Waco leaves tonight for Beaumont. The score:

San Antonio 1, Austin 0.

By The Associated Press.

Austin, May 14.—In one of the best games of the season, San Antonio defeated Austin by a score of 1 to 0 this afternoon. It was a pitchers' battle, in which Browning had the better of it. Lefty Lewis, who worked for the Senators, pitched excellent ball, but was hit much more frequently than his opponent. The Bronchos had a man on third many times. It was their game all the way through. The score:

LOSES TWO BICYCLES

INSIDE OF A MONTH

Like Thieves Concentrate On W. A. Walker: One a Night Their Average.

W. A. Walker thinks he holds the record for having bicycles stolen from him. Inside of a month he has been robbed of two wheels worth upwards of $80. The last one was removed soon after dark last night from the front porch of his home, 1000 E. 10th street. He traced it on to the dirt walk to Tenth and Clay, where he lost the scent of the thief. It was a $30 machine, Clay, where he lost the scent on the occasion of his first bike's disappearance. It bore his letters, W. A. W.

According to the police, bicycle stealing is growing in popularity, a number of bicycles being stolen every night. This record has been maintained for months, some nights running as high as three or four when the picking is good. A very small percentage of the offenders have been caught. Agitation has been begun for an anti-bike thief association.

WON'T PRODUCE
PAPERS SAYS STEEL

CORPORATION DECLINES TO FURNISH CONTRACTS WITH SUBSIDIARIES.

Other Documents Wanted by Prosecution Are Lost or Destroyed, Defense Asserts.

By The Associated Press.

New York, May 14.—The refusal of the American Steel and Wire Company to produce certain papers wanted by the government and the discovery that other documents which the corporation was subpoenaed to produce had either been destroyed or could not be found, furnished the sensation of today's hearing of the government's suit to dissolve the corporation. The papers which the corporation's attorneys refused to produce are two contracts between the American Tin Plate Company and the American Steel Company, whereby the can company is alleged to have obtained its supply of tin plate at preferential prices. D. G. Reid and Judge W. H. Moore, directors of the steel corporation, are also directors of the can company.

Won't Produce Papers.

"We decline to produce these contracts," announced R. V. Lindbergh, chief counsel for the corporation, on the ground that they disclose the company's private business of "fairs with one of its customers."

The refusal would stand, Mr. Lindbergh stated, until the right of the government to possess the documents had been ruled upon by United States circuit judges to whom the testimony will be certified.

Contracts are Missing

The documents destroyed or missing consisted of contracts between the American Tin Plate Company and manufacturers of tin plate machinery whereby it is alleged the use of the machinery by competitors of the steel trust subsidiary was prevented; of an alleged five-year contract between the tin plate company and the Sharon Steel Company for taking the latter's output and of similar contracts alleged to have been made by the American Sheet Steel Company. Carl Wheeler, a secretary of the Sheet and Tin Plate Company, who has been subpoenaed to produce the contracts, testified that he himself had destroyed the machinery contracts "about 1904."

"By whose authority did you destroy them?"

"My own."

"You exercised your own judgment without authority from the board of directors?"

Papers "Obsolete."

"In this case, yes. There were a number of obsolete papers which I destroyed and I presume these contracts were among them as I have not seen them since."

The other nonrais, Wheeler said, he had been unable to find. "Did you make a thorough search?"

"Well, I had a search made. They tell me that they can't find them anywhere."

"Well, I instruct you to make a thorough search and if you can't find them, we will have those subpoenaed."

A big steel battering ram was swung from the ceiling and with the help of half a dozen strong men it has been hammered against the big safe door for five days. Up until late today only 4586 blows had been struck, leaving 4414 blows yet to be struck before the door of the safe can be opened.

MARKET OPENS FIRM CROP REPORT FACTOR

APPROHENSION OF GOVERNMENT STATEMENT IN NEXT THREE WEEKS IS FELT.

By The Associated Press.
New York, May 14.—The market opened steady at a decline of 2 to 6 points and during the first few minutes sold about 7 to 8 points net lower under scattering liquidation and bear pressure. Inspired by easier Livestock cables and a fairly good weather map. An announcement from the department of agriculture that the first government crop report of the season would be published June 1, and, as in recent seasons, would estimate the acreage condition of the crop as of May 25, instead of being postponed until the first of July, inspired active covering at the initial decline, however, and the market showed increased firmness during the balance of the day.

The high point was reached in the late trading, and the close was within 2 or 3 points of the start. Possibly rather less favorable official forecast than expected by local weather experts helped to rally the market from the low level, and the weekly report of the weather bureau was probably a little more favorable than looked for, but the main factor appeared to be the apprehension of a bullish government report within the next three weeks.

Owing to the fact that a bill providing that the first report of the government this year should not be published until the first of July had passed the house some time ago, an impression had been created in trade circles that no official statement either as to acreage or condition was to be expected until after the end of next month. The action of the market therefore was said to suggest that a report as to May 25 was expected to be more bullish than a report later in the season, evidently because of the admittedly late start and delayed farm work.

The buying was not general on the advance and there was a good deal of cotton for sale on a scale up, but shorts evidently were nervous and there was considerable support from Wall street and southern bulls.

Receipts 8419 bales, against 14,482 last week and 8336 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 1972, against 1789 last year; at Houston 1072, against 1160 last year, and at Galveston 1766, against 2631 last year.

ACTIVE DEMAND RESCUES OPTION FROM THE BEARS

CORN PRICES STRONG AT LAST, DESPITE MARKET RULING LISTLESS EARLIER.

By The Associated Press.
Chicago, May 14.—Active demand here today for spot delivery for wheat rescued the option market from the bears. A big decrease in the world supply total helped and prices closed steady at a range varying from 1/2c lower to 1/4c advance as compared with the previous night. Corn scored a net gain of 3/4 @ 1/2c, oats finished 3/4c off to 1/4c up, and provisions were dearer by 5 @ 15c.

At first the wheat market tended downward, following reports of an improved crop outlook and of favorable weather. Many poolings, one of which amounted to nearly 2,000,000 bushels, went on sale during the weakness. The yield of the current year in Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas made the total 162,000,000 bushels to 182,000,000 bushels, against 185,000,000 last year. Nevertheless the owners of the principal stock of cash wheat here kept steadily absorbing the offerings of futures, it afterward developed that sales to millers and to other actual consumers were much above the ordinary average.

When the market began to rally, fresh attention was given to the remarkable rise of world's available supply decrease, 8,808,000 bushels for the week, an aggregate of more than 3,000,000 bushels in excess of the falling off at the corresponding time twelve months back.

Although the corn market ruled listless and mainly lower most of the day, prices were strong at the last. Industries here and elsewhere were said to be filled up and unable to care for all of the current arrivals. Developing strength in wheat, however, started shorts covering and brought about an upturn.

Pipe weather led to free selling of oats. Many of the traders who bought yesterday were unloading. Provisions were helped upward by the high mark at the yards. Outside demand during most of the day was light, but extended somewhat near the close. Lard showed the chief increase in cost, 12 1/2 @ 15c.

The close follows:

SPECIALTIES RULE ON STOCK EXCHANGE

UNITED STATES STEEL ONCE MORE TAKES OLD PLACE AS LEADER IN MARKET.

By The Associated Press.
New York, May 14.—Dealings in securities on the stock exchange today were devoted largely to the specialties and other minor issues to the neglect, if not the detriment, of the more standard shares. Lehigh Valley and Reading contributed their usual degree of activity with some early strength, while United States Steel once more took its old place as leader, transactions in that stock far exceeding those in any other issue, at a material gain. In fact, steel manifested more underlying strength than at any time since the report of its unfavorable statement a fortnight back.

Other movements noticeable included Canadian Pacific which rose to 56 3/4-3/4, thereby eclipsing all previous high records; International Harvester which advanced almost 5 points from its early low figures on rumors of a settlement of the dissolution suit, and Sears Roebuck, which touched its best quotation for the year on relatively large transactions. There also were activities in American Sugar which held firm despite the failure of the directors to increase the dividends.

Bonds were irregular today, some of the better known issues tending toward heaviness. A rise of almost four points in the 4 1/2 per cent bonds of the Dupont Powder Company was the one feature. Total sales par value aggregated $287,600.

Panama 3's registered declined 1 1/2 per cent on call.

DRY POISON IS BEST FOR USE IN FIELDS

College Station, Tex., May 14.—The garden web worm or "careless worm," has made its appearance in extreme South Texas, particularly in Garza, San Patricio and Uvalde counties, and is doing considerable damage to cotton by devouring leaves, according to a statement issued today by Wilmon Newell, state entomologist of Texas, at the A. & M. college.

This worm, somewhat resembling the cotton leaf worm or "army worm," which did much damage to cotton last year, but it is not as serious a pest as the latter, in that it is not likely to persist through the season. Fortunately the pest is easily controlled. It is only necessary to apply to the cotton, in dust form, the poison known as "rowd," which is dust and the method of application is to make a small sack of cotton cloth, place the poison in it, tie the sack to a short stick and then dust the cotton lightly with it. One man can dust the cotton as fast as he can walk along the row and the dusting is facilitated by the operator carrying another short stick with which to tap the one having the sack on it. About two pounds of powdered arsenate of lead is sufficient to destroy the pest on small cotton.

In fields where the cotton is nearly waist high, a more rapid and economical method is to suspend a sack of poison to each end of a pole about six feet in length. This pole is then carried across the saddle in front of a laborer on horseback, who rides between the rows, shaking, out the poison. The powdered arsenate of lead is not diluted with anything before application. On large cotton from three to four pounds per acre are required. The poison will not scorch or burn the leaves of cotton no matter how heavily applied.

In emergencies where the powdered arsenate of lead cannot be applied, the worms may be destroyed in the same manner with Paris green, mixed with air slaked lime at the rate of one part Paris green to five parts of the lime. This should be dusted onto the plants very lightly, at a rate not to exceed one-fourth pound of Paris green to the acre, for the reason that Paris green, no matter how lightly applied, is itself injurious to the cotton plant and will always reduce final yield.

There is no necessity to buy spraying machinery for destroying this pest, nor is there any use to use liquid spray for its destruction. It requires many tons of water to spray a cotton field, and it is expensive. Dry applications are as effective as liquid spray. White arsenic and caustic soda should never be applied to cotton. Either will do about as much damage as the insects. Powdered arsenate of lead is the preferable poison, is safest, cheapest, most effective and not controlled by trust prices.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.
Sealed bids marked "Proposal for Construction of Concrete Culverts," for furnishing all tools, materials, labor etc., addressed to Mr. P. A. Gorman, Commissioner of S. S. & P. L. Waco, Texas, will be received at the office of the City Secretary to be opened and considered by the Mayor and Commission at 10 a. m., May 21st, 1912. Bids shall be for each culvert separately, as follows: Barnard street culvert near 20th St., Jefferson street culvert near 20th St., Fort street culvert near 21st St. Bond for one-fourth of the price bid will be required of the successful bidder. Plans and specifications are on file at the City Engineering Office. The Mayor and City Commissioners do hereby reserve the right to reject any or all bids.

For a moonlight picnic go to O'Connell's Lake, where you will have the use of the pavilion.

TEXAS SHOULD LEAD.

While the two rival candidates for governor are disputing the claims of each as to who is entitled to the honor of broaching penitentiary reform, The News would respectfully refer the public to the efforts of the press along this line, and especially the work of The News through its editorial columns. Both candidates for governor are in favor of a better treatment of the convicts, but The News would like for them to quit talking about the "bat," which has been abolished upon the recommendation of the penitentiary commissioners, and devote some of their time to the question of amending the laws so that the wives and the children of convicts can get a "square deal." As the matter now stands many innocent women and children are much more severely punished by the incarceration of their husbands, their fathers or their sons, because the punishment of incarceration deprives them of needed support, and they, suddenly thrown upon their own resources, without preparation or training do not know how to earn a living, and in consequence, laboring under the stigma of the crime attached to the one in the penitentiary, they suffer mental agony and physical anguish. The statutes need to be amended so that the one in the penitentiary can be permitted to earn something that he can send to his family, and the state should see to it that he earns it and that it is sent to the ones who need it. Will the two distinguished candidates for governor please commit themselves upon this vital issue?

Texas ought to occupy the highest place in the treatment of those unfortunates who have gone astray. A good start has already been made, but there is a great deal yet to be done; and a governor can do more than any one else to lead the way. Everywhere that courts are held, men are sent to the penitentiary for small delinquencies and men are freed of large crimes, because of the fact that a poor man can not get justice under our present system of court procedure, and the indifference of the public. There are throughout this great state many children, hungry and cold, whose fathers were sent to the penitentiary just because they had no friends and no political influence. The people must be educated up to a knowledge of the injustice of the law, and the supreme indifference of themselves to matters of such vital importance.

It is bad enough to send these men to the penitentiary for first offenses, when by a spirit of leniency they might be reclaimed to their families and saved to the state, but it is much worse for the state to make slaves of them, and sell their labor for a mere bagatelle, to enrich contractors who are already wealthy. The suspended sentence law gave district judges some latitude to help those who were convicted for the first time, but the court of criminal appeals decided that the law was unconstitutional. When the constitution gets in the way of such humanitarian measures it is time to change it. The suspended sentence statute is a good law, and we need to go along with this law that will enable convicts to work for their families even though they are deprived of their liberty. Then Texas can hold up her head among the states of this great union.

BEAUTIFUL DEVOTION.

In the destruction of the Titanic the devotion of Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Strauss was a beautiful demonstration of that love and comradeship that should characterize the home and the marriage relation. For many years they had lived together, and had loved and comforted one another. Although Mr. Strauss urged his wife to go into a life boat and leave him, she would not, but died with him when the mighty ship went down, doubtless locked in his arms. When love is strong enough that one is willing to die when the other dies, it has reached the climax. But it is just as strong and just as sweet where love is willing that the wife may be saved, while the husband is left behind to become the bride of the waves. The Titanic's destruction furnished the world many lessons, and doubtless that is just why it was permitted to go down upon that night of a million stars, when they twinkled upon the surface of the ocean, and were mirrored in the depths of its placid bosom; but there was no lesson more valuable to the happiness of mankind than that beautiful picture of a wife's devotion manifested when Mrs. Strauss clung to her husband, and together they went down beneath the waves. Their example will live forever, and that point off Cape Race where so many have met death will always be hallowed with the memory of this immortal love, standing out above the gloom of the night and the sorrow of the awful catastrophe.

Roosevelt has the most vaulting ambition that any man of modern times has yet manifested. He occupied the highest place in the land. He had been crowned with every honor within the gift of the people of the United States, he was trusted, honored, loved and he was rich. He was held in higher esteem than any other citizen of the United States. He was the greatest living private citizen. He was known all over the civilized world, and had, perhaps, impressed the world with his personality more than any other living man. What more could he want? Where would his vaulting ambition lead him? But he was not satisfied. He wanted power. He craved further notoriety, and to gain power and notoriety he began a campaign for the presidency, running against his friend, the president, whom he elected, and whom he told the people was worthy and well qualified, a man whom he had trusted as his advisor. He has gone so far in his desire to grasp again this power that his heart craves, that he has given way to fierce invective against the president of the United States.

A CRISIS IS AT HAND.

Nature is inexorable in her ways. She is kind and considerate and patient, but when a person or a nation has been thoroughly tried and tested and found inadequate for the responsibilities placed upon them, nature relieves them of the burden, and some one else is chosen for the purpose. When there are great deeds to be performed and great sacrifices to be made in the name of humanity, there are always willing men to make the sacrifice. In the evolution of the great eternal plan, which has been in course of progress ever since the world began, it is often necessary that men yield up their lives and nations be tried and tested with the horrors of war, before the right men and the right nation are selected for the work of enlightening the other nations of the world. When who lead a nation to greatness and nations who light the way to a higher civilization must not be selfish, but must be thoroughly imbued with a desire to do those things that will be the most helpful to those who now live and those who are to follow after. They must have in their hearts that willingness to suffer and to die that the world may be happier and better.

Out of the centuries that have fled, out of the superstitions and out of the passions of the years that lay close to the dawn of civilization, this great country has been evolved and its thought and opinion moulded. If it is to continue to move onward and upward it must have at its head men whose interests are unselfish and purely patriotic, men who can not be swayed from what they know is right, and men who do not crave power for power's sake, but who love the people and are willing to fight for their interests. To get such men, there must be a return to the old way of selecting them, and repudiate all petty politicians who would ride into office upon a popular prejudice just for the purpose of spoils. There is grave danger in the present presidential situation. It is serious when men who hold the highest office within the gift of this nation, and men who aspire to the highest office, travel about the country and spend large sums of money to be nominated, and while doing so they engage in talk about each other that low-brows use in a settlement of their arguments. The people ought to rebuke severely such men at the polls in November, and place in the white house a man who will dignify the office, and whose example is an inspiration for higher culture and better things.

We are now at a crisis in the history of this government. We are undergoing a radical change in governmental thought, and we need a wise and a just man as president to guide us over the rough and rocky shoals that we will be bound to cross with the ship of state. We need a man who will not plunge us into war, either actually or industrially; one who is progressively conservative, and one whose heart and whose mind is tuned to distinguish the voice of the people from the voice of the demagogue.

TAFT DESERTED BY ROOT IN OHIO FIGHT

Convinced That President Is Loser, He Flatly Refuses to Leave the Capital.

Special to The Morning News.

New York, May 14.—The American today publishes the following by Jas. J. Montague, its Washington correspondent:

"Mr. Taft must make his last ditch fight in Ohio next week without any help from Elihu Root. Root was advertised throughout Ohio as 'Roosevelt's secretary of state' who will speak against him from the platform." But at the eleventh hour, convinced that Taft is a loser, he flatly refused to leave Washington.

"This is merely additional proof of the fact that the reactionaries are deserting Taft. Of all the cabinet officers and senators advertised for the grand Taft speechfest which is to precede the primaries, only Secretary Nagel and Senators Burton and Townsend will appear.

"Mr. Taft has been compelled to fall back on his brother, Charles, for money to pay the bills, and on S. C. Laylin and Arthur I. Vorys for political advice. Incidentally, he is placing a good deal of reliance on his own powers of repartee. He will lead the fight himself and keep it up to the last possible minute.

"Elinor Assists Walter Brown. Meanwhile William Flinn, the new Pennsylvania boss, is in Ohio counseling Walter Brown, the Roosevelt boss of that state, as to the best means of beating Taft.

"It has been learned that the colonel, who will make his first speech in Canton, will charge that President Taft appointed Judge Archbald, now under investigation, at the instance of Penrose.

"It will be further charged by the colonel that Taft, after abundant opportunities to find out all about Archbald, kept him on the bench.

"The revelations concerning Archbald brought out at the house investigation have been sent to Mr. Roosevelt for use in preparing this speech.

"To assist him in what he believes will be his knockout wallop at the president, Mr. Roosevelt will have Comptroller Prendergast of New York, Senators Clapp and Poindexter, Governor Stubbins and Representative Victor Murdock of Kansas, Oscar Strauss of New York, Governor Stanley of Missouri, and his manager, Senator Dixon.

"All these small arms will keep up a rapid fire while the Roosevelt 14-inch gun is in action. Never before was there such a political invasion of a state.

"Taft Returns Discouraged. President Taft returned from Ohio deeply discouraged. He has at last had an opportunity to find out what is really going on. His determination to keep up the fight is not in the least abated, but his hope of victory seems to his friends shaken.

"West Virginia, a next-door state, will hold district and state conventions on Wednesday. The result, forecast absolutely by the primaries, will be 16 more Roosevelt delegates. Washington will give him 14 delegates. The effect of these two deliveries will be more deadly than much oratory.

"California votes Tuesday next, and if Taft is overthrown there, there will not be much hope of Ohio.

"In all likelihood the whole fight will be ended after Ohio has voted. Only an even break will pass the decision along to Chicago. And it is for that reason that Mr. Taft, deserted by his former backers, is mad clear through and very bad company for the men who are obliged to follow him about."

STATE ELECTRIC MEDICAL ASSOCIATION MEETS HERE

BOY HURT BY FALL.

F. J. Tupper, 15 years old, a newboy, North Sixteenth street, fell off his bicycle yesterday and received so ugly a wound in the crotch that several stitches had to be taken.

PRISON SENTENCES ARE ANNOUNCED TO FOUR MEN

T. E. Meadows, Charged With Horse Theft, to Appeal—Two-Year Terms for Three.

Judge Munroe of the Fifty-fourth district court had time, aside from hearing contested divorce cases Tuesday, to pass sentence upon four prisoners who had previously been convicted in his court. Among those who received penitentiary sentences were T. E. Meadows, charged with horse theft and given four years by a jury in the Fifty-fourth district court. It was with considerable difficulty that Judge Munroe made the prisoner at the bar understand the nature of the proceedings. On account of a defect in his hearing, Deputy Sheriff Alva Hatch was called upon to assist the judge. In loud tones he explained the proceedings. Meadows stated that he wished to appeal his case to the highest tribunal.

Harron Frye, a negro, convicted on a charge of forgery; W. M. Foster, convicted on a charge of receiving stolen property, and Carey Ingram, charged with burglary, were each sentenced to two-year terms.

HOT-POINT DAY

SUCCESS IN WACO TOWN

Saturday, May 11, was "Hot-point" day in Waco, as it was in all the principal cities of the world. Almost every housewife knows what is meant when one refers to "Hot-point." It simply means an improvement in electrical irons. According to the discriminating housewife who manages to keep thoroughly posted on such matters, the Hot-point is the one real electric iron, and it is a delight and a pleasure to use them. One of the largest sales of electric irons ever recorded in Waco was made last Saturday, when Hot-points were placed on special sale for one day only. The local dealers who handle the Hot-point, the Vevey Electric company and the Waco Electric and Supply company, state that they are prepared to fill all orders for the modern necessity on short notice. This is a gentle hint to the wise housewife who has not already done so to get acquainted with the Hot-point.

DIVORCE DENIED WOMAN

SCREAMS IN COURT ROOM

"Under the circumstances there was nothing left for me to do except to vanish, so I proceeded to evaporate," or words to that effect. Thus explained Judge R. I. Munroe of the Fifty-fourth district court, following an alleged scene in his court Tuesday a few moments before noon, when it is said that Mrs. Onie Woodward, plaintiff in a divorce suit against her husband, a traveling man, began screaming when the decree was not granted by the court.

Following the Woodward incident, the divorce suit instituted by Mrs. Melie Lewis against Charles Lewis, was continued. A long drawn out battle for the custody of the 3-year-old daughter, pending the settlement of the suit, was waged. The child was ordered left with the mother until the suit is settled.

NEW HAMPSHIRE VOTES PLACED IN CLARK COLUMN

By The Associated Press.

Concord, N. H., May 14.—Four delegates at large and two from each of the two congressional districts to the democratic national convention at Baltimore pledged, but "moral" bound by a preferential vote for Speaker Clark, were elected by the democrats of New Hampshire today.

There was applause in the state convention when the chairman mentioned the name of Gov. Wilson in his opening remarks, and in the debate over the question of instructions Wilson had some supporters. The Clark sentiment was clearly predominant, however. In its platform the convention favored a six-year term for president and ineligibility for a second term.

LOCKPORT, TEXAS, MAN IS BLOWN INTO HAY BY STORM

By The Associated Press.

Corpus Christi, Tex., May 14.—Lockport suffered considerable damage at noon today in a wind and electrical storm. A garage was completely demolished and its wreckage blown away while machinery was scattered for several hundred feet. Barns, outhouses and fences were destroyed.

Will Peden, aged 22, was blown into the bay and injured, but was rescued.

The rainfall was excessive, being estimated at four inches.

FOL. ISSUES BRYAN CALL

IRVING AGAINST ACTION.

Lincoln, Neb., May 14.—W. J. Bryan today declared that he had as late as yesterday, requested officers of the Iowa Bryan league not to start any movement in his behalf.

"If I can learn who issued the call today, I will wire him to the same effect," Mr. Bryan said.

FLORIDA REPUBLICANS TO SEND TWO DELEGATIONS

Notice of Contest Between T. R. and Taft Men Received by Committee.

By The Associated Press. Chicago, May 14.—Notice of a contest between the Taft and Roosevelt forces in Florida over twelve delegates to the republican national convention was received by Secretary Hayward of the republican national committee today.

A full set of delegates at large and district delegates have been chosen by the Taft and Roosevelt factions in that state.

TAFT MEN CONTROL TENNESSEE CONVENTION

Expected Bolt of Roosevelt Men Does Not Take Place at Nashville.

By The Associated Press. Nashville, Tenn., May 14.—Taft men are in complete control of the state republican convention. The expected bolt did not take place and the delegates to the national convention at large were instructed for Taft.

Roosevelt leaders threw up the sponge when the convention assembled tonight for the sake of harmony in the state convention and urged their followers to stand by the action of the convention when it was apparent that the report of the committee on credentials gave control to the Taft men.

TUESDAY'S PROCEEDINGS IN NATIONAL CONGRESS

By The Associated Press.

Washington, May 14.—Day in congress:

SENATE.

Resumed consideration of the agricultural appropriation bill.

HOUSE.

Met at 11 a. m.

Considered anti-injunction bill. Judiciary committee subpoenaed President Haer of Philadelphia and Reading railway in connection with investigation into charges against Judge Archbald.

Agricultural expenditures committee continued its investigation into charges against meat inspection service.

BUSINESS MEN'S CLUB MEMBERS HOLD MEETING

The regular Tuesday morning meeting of the Business Men's Club was held in the club rooms Tuesday morning, and proved an interesting and instructive meeting for all present.

President E. V. Marshall and Secretary E. F. Drake were present and greeted the members, who called to talk over the affairs of the Business Men's Club and its future. The members stated that they were pleased with the progress being made and the work for a greater Waco, which is being performed by the club.

WELFARE COMMISSION HOLDS DALLAS MEETING

Special to The Morning News.

Dallas, May 14.—The Texas Welfare Commission will hold its annual meeting in this city Wednesday. Among other subjects docketed for discussion is the fabrication of cotton into cloth and the establishment of a cotton mill. Each member of the commission has been furnished with a copy of the latest census report on manufacturing in Texas, which contains interesting information regarding the manufacturing industries of Lone Star state.

BROTHER OF SENATOR PERCY IN COLLAPSE

By The Associated Press.

Nashville, May 14.—W. A. Percy of Memphis, brother of United States Senator Leroy Percy of Mississippi, who collapsed this afternoon while in attendance upon a meeting of the democratic state committee at a local hotel, is still in a critical condition, although his physicians say he is somewhat better tonight.

DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS.

Irene, the three and one-half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Wise, Seventeenth and Daubert streets, succumbed to an illness which the physicians say was caused by poisoning, when the little girl ate two candy Easter eggs on Easter Sunday, April 8. She had suffered continuously since. The funeral was held from the family home at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Burial took place in Greenwood cemetery.

INTEREST INCREASING IN BAPTIST'S REVIVAL

Tuesday night marked the second evening revival on Clay street, between Eighth and Ninth streets.

Services will be held this morning at 10 o'clock and tonight at 8 o'clock at the First Baptist church and this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Clay Street Baptist church. Evangelist Ham is conducting the services.

RELIEF FOR FLOOD SUFFERERS.

By The Associated Press.

Kansas City, May 14.—The African Methodist conference today appropriated $10,000 for the flood sufferers in the Mississippi valley.

This will be augmented by $10,000 from the church extension society and a special effort will be made on the second Sunday in June to raise $25,000 more for this purpose.

RAIL CASES CONTINUED.

By The Associated Press.

Chicago, May 14.—Judge Kerston today continued until June 3 the trial of Frank E. Hawkins, Jno. M. Taylor, Charles L. Ewing and Joseph E. Baker, former officials of the Illinois Central railroad, indicted for conspiracy in connection with frauds by which the corporation is said to have been mulct out of more than $1,500,000.

CLARK CARRYING NEVADA.

By The Associated Press.

Reno, Nev., May 14.—Early reports indicate the democratic presidential preference vote in today's Nevada primaries is for Champ Clark.

"FATE" OF HUNNEWELL ALDERMEN WITH COURT

Mayorom of Disrupted Town Presented When Case Submitted to Kansas Tribunal.

Special to The Morning News. Topeka, May 14.—The Hunnewell ouster case, involving briefs enough to fill a library, and costs equal to the revenues of Hunnewell for 20 years, was argued and submitted before the supreme court here today. Mrs. Ella Young, mayoress of the town which is now rent with civic strife, was an interested witness to the proceedings. The court will render no opinion in the case until June, at the earliest.

The state was represented by Attorney General Dawkins, while A. M. Jackson of Winfield, represented the councilmen, who have refused to submit to the authority of a woman mayor.

The troubles of the mayoress of Hunnewell, now known the length and breadth of the land, are based upon the refusal of the aldermen to sanction her appointments. The ouster results from her appeal to the attorney general to force the city fathers to perform their official duties just as though a man, and not a woman, held the chief executive office.

INTERESTING PROGRAM FOR AD CLUB BENEFIT

Many Songs and Spectacles by Prominent Wacoans to Comprise Entertainment.

A pleasing program has been announced for the benefit performance of the Waco Ad club and the Ladies' Missionary society of the Fifth Street Methodist church, which will be given at the Auditorium theater Thursday night. The program follows:

FINANCIAL INTERESTS BETTING ON ROOSEVELT

Wall Street Is Convinced That Former President Will Win.

Special to The Morning News.

New York, May 14.—The betting element in Wall street appears to be convinced that Theodore Roosevelt will not only receive the republican nomination, but will be the next president of the United States. Betting today was even money that Roosevelt would be the republican nominee, and there were also quite a few wagers made that the colonel would carry the Ohio primaries.

Betting on this was also at even money, yet only a day or two ago Taft was the favorite at 7 to 5 on this proposition. The sporting element, going on past performance, took into consideration the fact that Roosevelt had carried Ohio by 166,000 votes, which caused the change in odds.

Several bets have been offered at 6 to 5 that Roosevelt will be the next president, with the provision imposed that the Ohio primaries favor him.

DAILY PAPER ON TRAIN.

Advertising Club to Print One On Way to Dallas.

Special to The Morning News.

Baltimore, May 14.—The exact hour of departure from Baltimore of the Dallas special, bearing the members of the Advertising club of Baltimore who will attend the annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America, is 7:55 o'clock next Thursday morning. The place of starting is Camden station.

While the members are preparing to board the special train on time, Messrs. Walter S. Hamberger, vice president of the Baltimore club, and John E. Raine are getting material ready for the publication of the daily morning and afternoon newspaper on the train. There will be special editions for the towns at which the Dallas special will stop. Besides the Baltimore news, it will contain a column of news local to that town. It will be an eight-page paper and one of the few ever published on a train.

FAVOR FEMALE JUSTICES.

Special to The Morning News.

Winston-Salem, N. C., May 14.—An increase of the movement for the appointment of women as justices of juvenile courts was voted at today's session of the State Federation of Women's clubs, in session here.

The organization also endorsed the movement launched by the Federated Women's clubs of the country for a mammoth peace monument to be placed at the entrance to the Panama canal.

Mrs. John Hays Hammond of Washington, was the principal speaker at tonight's session, telling of the work of the woman's department of the National Civic Federation.

BRITISH PROBE OF DISASTER RESUMED

CAPTAIN LORD OF CALIFORNIAN ON GRILL BEFORE COMMONS INVESTIGATORS.

Others of Steamer Tell of Signals. Didn't Know They Were of Distress.

By The Associated Press.
 London, May 14.—When the British inquiry into the Titanic disaster was resumed, Captain Lord of the Californian, which was near the Titanic when she sank, was the first witness.
 The attorney general indicated that there would be a material difference between the stories of the captain and his officers in regard to the steamer seen from the deck of the Californian during the night of the wreck.

Not Titanic.
 Captain Lord said that he was sure the steamer was not the Titanic but a vessel of about the size of the Californian.
 Captain Lord said he had not been told that the deck lights of the vessel had disappeared. The commander of the Californian, he said, reported in the morning that the vessel whose masthead light had been seen had stopped during the night but had started at about 1 o'clock and went off to the southwestward, her stern light being seen at 2 o'clock.
 They did not discuss it.
 Capt. Lord said officers of the bridge during the night of the wreck told him the next morning that the sighting of the rockets had been reported to him and that he had answered the calls. However, he declared, he could not remember doing so. Lord asserted that if he had known the Titanic was sinking, he would have sooner to her aid, despite the ice, although he did not believe he could have reached her in time.

Saw Rockets.
 An apprentice, Gibson, who was on the Californian's bridge, told of seeing rockets and of reporting them to the captain. Gibson testified that at 3:40 a. m., long after the Titanic went down, he saw another rocket.
 The witness said that while watching the steamer which was firing rockets, the second officer remarked that the steamer was not firing rockets at sea for nothing and that she appeared to be very queer, out of the water and seemed to have a heavy list to starboard. He did not think the vessel was exactly in distress, but was in some kind of trouble. He thought she was a tramp steamer.

Herbert Stone, second officer of the Californian, who next took the stand, said that when he took the watch he could see the masthead and red lights and a few indistinct lights of a steamer about five miles away. Later the vessel fired eight white rockets.
 "Were they distress signals," he was asked.

"They might have been anything. The steamer might have been communicating with some other vessel, giving a warning of icebergs, or trying to reply to the Californian's Morse signals," he replied.

"Did it occur to you that they were distress signals?"
 "Might be distress signals."
 "After I heard that the Titanic had gone down it occurred to me that they might have been distress signals. But I believed they came from a small vessel which was near."

"What did you think rockets were being sent up for?"
 "Stone thought a ship was in trouble but she steamed away. He told the captain the rockets might have come from a steamer farther away than the one they saw, although as the bearing of the rockets altered at the same time as the steamer steamed away, it was evident they came from her. The steamer just faded away. She did not go out of sight, as if she were sinking."
 "You want us to understand that notwithstanding the rockets, neither you or Gibson thought there was anything the matter with the ship?" asked Lord Mersey.

"No."
 Later the witness said he saw another steamer and the first officer remarked:

"There's that steamer. She's all right."
 Counsel for the board of trade:

"Why should the first officer have said that? Did you say anything to him to suggest that the steamer had sunk?"

"No."
 Needs't Press Matter.

Lord Mersey: "Did not the very thing happen that you had laughed at?"

"Yes."
 Lord Mersey: "We need not press the matter further."

Counsel for the White Star line asked that the cross-examination of Hendrickson, who had mentioned Sir Cosmo Duff Gordon in his evidence be postponed until the Duff Gordons could attend and have an opportunity to make a statement.

BOATS DODGE EVA, SHE'S LOADED.

Special to The Morning News.

Norfolk, Va., May 14.—With 300 barrels of crude petroleum and thirty drums of gasoline already in her hold, the British steamer Eva will take on 1000 pounds of dynamite in Hampton Roads. The Eva is bound for Curacao, Dutch West Indies. She carries a crew of 25 men, but none of them appear to know what use would be made of the dynamite when it reaches Curacao. The Eva is given a wide berth by passing vessels.

SOUTHERN BAPTISTS HOLD PRELIMINARIES

500 OF EXPECTED 6000 DELEGATES IN OKLAHOMA CITY FOR CONVENTION.

By The Associated Press.
 Oklahoma City, May 14.—Although the assembled delegates to the Southern Baptists' convention will not be called to order until 3 p. m. Wednesday afternoon, meeting of various organizations affiliated with the convention decided today. Three assemblies of the Sunday school field workers conference were held today.

It was stated at registration headquarters today that fully 6000 delegates and visitors from all parts of the world have arrived in the city when President E. C. Dargin of Macon, Ga., calls the convention to order tomorrow. About 500 are here now. Several special trains will arrive tonight and tomorrow. The convention is attracting attention from outside its jurisdiction. A delegation of Baptists from Wichita, Topeka and other Kansas points arrived today and a large delegation from Iowa will arrive tonight.

Strickland Speaks.
 The morning session of the Sunday school field workers conference was addressed by Secretary H. L. Strickland of Birmingham, Alabama, who discussed "Standards of Excellence." G. O. Hyman of Jasper, Fla., spoke on "Uniformity of Grading," while W. D. Huggins of Esteele Springs, Texas, dealt with the problem "Associated Organization."

The afternoon session was devoted to addresses by Dr. J. N. Frost of Nashville, Tennessee, corresponding secretary of the Sunday school board, Secretary Untermeyer of Louisville, Ky., Arthur Flake of Baldwin, Miss., and J. D. Moore of Columbia, S. C. The conference closed with an open meeting.

P. E. Burroughs, of Nashville, and J. E. Bird of Mount Olive, Miss., addressed the assembly meeting.

The fourth meeting of the organization at which time officers for the coming year will be elected will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

Pawnee Come Too.
 Friday evening an elaborate banquet will be served for those who have completed the King's teacher Sunday school course. It is stated that 300 will be entitled to participate.

Thirty Pawnee Indians, headed by the patriarchal chief, White Eagle, arrived today and pitched camp about five blocks away from the convention hall.

"We have come down to the meeting of our Baptist paleface brethren," said Knife Chief, a tribal leader. "Because their missionaries have been working among us for years, showing us the Jesus way and we want to show them we appreciate it. This is going to be a big meeting and we Pawnees will enjoy it very much."

To Elect Today.
 The election of officers is the first thing scheduled for tomorrow. It is stated that change in the personnel of officers of the convention will be made. Following the election of officers the address of welcome will be delivered by the Rev. Carter Helm Jones, pastor of the First Baptist church of Oklahoma City.

Four southern cities have entered the contest for the 1913 meeting of the convention. They are San Antonio, Texas, Asheville, N. C., Atlanta, Ga., and Birmingham, Ala. The contest promises to be a spirited one.

$10000 REWARD.

We will pay $1000 reward for any information leading to the recovery of goods stolen from us on Dec. 29, 1911, or a proportionate amount for information leading to the recovery of any part thereof. An additional $1000 will be paid by the Jewelers' Security Alliance for the arrest of the burglar. Address J. Levinski, Waco, Texas.

Judgment to Widow Jones Follows Death of "Casey"

DAMAGE SUIT TRANSFERRED TO WACO FROM MISSOURI COUNTY IS HEARD—WIDOW AND CHILDREN LEAVE.

(By Percy Vere.)
 After remaining out only 15 minutes, the jury in the case of Mrs. Casey Jones versus the Western Pacific railroad company, in which Mrs. Jones was suing for recovery of $15,000 alleged damages for the death of her husband, "Casey" Jones the brave engineer, it returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $1000. The case was transferred to the district court of this county from Claremont county, Missouri, where a trial was adjourned about six months ago.

The case has been hard fought and many clashes between opposing counsel occurred during the trial.

The testimony as given by Eddie Newton, the fireman on the engine which Mr. Jones was driving at the time of the accident which caused his death, showed that "Casey" had resorted to undue extremes in order to make up eight hours' running time on the late "Western Mail" and had given instructions to Newton to "put in your water and shovel in your coal" regardless of consequences, stating that he would "run till she leaves the rails."

Mr. Newton was asked by counsel for the defense if he thought Mr. Casey was aware of the fact that there were a score or more passengers on board his train for Reno, Nev. To this Mr. Newton replied that Mr. Casey had said shortly before pulling up Reno Hill that he probably would not "even slow down for that point."

Mr. Newton was asked by counsel for the railroad if in his opinion Mr. Casey could have averted the collision with train No. 4 two miles this side of Reno.

Mr. Newton replied that Casey's orders had given him "right of track" over all trains and that Mr. Jones had remarked to him shortly after pulling out of the terminal that, "We may reach Frisco but we'll all be dead."

"When Mr. Jones saw," questioned counsel for the defense, "that the two trains were going to collide, did he say anything in explanation of the fact that No. 4 was occupying the main line in disobedience of orders?"

"Nothing more than that 'you had better jump, for there's two locomotives that are going to bump,'" Mr. Newton testified. Mr. Newton also testified that Mr. Jones was a most fearless engineer and for that reason he had been placed on the engine pulling the late "Western Mail" on the night of the accident.

Mrs. Casey Jones was then called to the stand to testify in her own behalf.

TWO HOUSES PLAN FOR EARLY ADJOURNMENT

LOWER BODY LEADERS THINK THEY WILL BE THROUGH BY JUNE 15.

By The Associated Press.
 Washington, May 14.—Plans for expediting legislation to allow congress to adjourn prior to the national political conventions were considered today at conferences of leaders of both house and senate.

The house leaders outlined a program that they believe will conclude the business of the house by June 15. The senate leaders reached no definite conclusions but the finance committee will meet next Thursday to consider plans for clearing the calendar.

House Ready June 15.
 On the side it was agreed that the Panama canal administration should be disposed of immediately after passage of the anti-injunction bill, then will come the naval, sundry, civil and general deficiency appropriation bills. The ways and means committee is to have an opportunity if it desires, to bring in another tariff revision probably on the tariff schedule.

According to our program we should be able to adjourn June 15," said Mr. Underwood.
 Meanwhile on the senate side, Senator Penrose conferred with Senator Simmons, in charge of the tariff bills for the democrats in an effort to fix a time for votes on these measures. None of the senate leaders were sanguine as to an early adjournment. Some senators today expressed the opinion that an adjournment on June 15 as planned by the house leaders, was entirely out of the question.

WOULD EXECUTE INCURABLE INSANE Physician Advocates Putting Them Mercifully to Sleep Forever.

Special to The Morning News.

Montgomery, Mo., May 14.—On the witness stand in the circuit court house this afternoon Dr. David O. Hudson told the jury that it was his opinion as a physician, and one who also has had experience through visiting the poor farms of Missouri, that the hopelessly insane and incurable patients should be mercifully put to sleep forever.

This is the first time he has advocated this doctrine under oath and on the witness stand. He said the reason he advised this was that Missouri and other states, especially the individual counties, did not provide for the incurable and hopelessly insane persons as they should; that he had seen them treated like hogs, eating without consciousness of being human beings, and without any hope of recovery. He testified that the county court and public should either treat such patients better or they should be gently put to death.

Dr. Hudson was called to testify as to the nervous condition of Miss Sylvia Hammett, the pretty young girl from Lincoln county, who is suing Dr. W. B. Bonfils, a prominent dentist of Troy, for $4000, alleging that he tried to kiss her. Both sides of the case have been heard and when the argument is made the jury will have the case. The court ruled out the character witnesses from Lincoln county, claiming that the reputation of the young woman was not being considered.

Dr. Bonfils, himself, took the stand this afternoon and stoutly denied that he had insulted the young girl or that he had tried to kiss her. Dr. Bonfils said he had abandoned the practice of dentistry for the present and was connected with a Denver newspaper. A verdict is expected tomorrow.

SWEDISH NOVELIST DIES.

By The Associated Press.
 Stockholm, May 14.—Auguste Strindberg, the Swedish novelist and dramatist, died today from cancer.

A Chain and Its Links

In telephoning, there are three links in the chain that constitutes "Good service"—

1. The Person Calling.
2. The Operator.
3. The Person Called.

No matter how much any one or any two of these links do to develop good service, the result is determined by the measure of co-operation of the third. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link.

If the person calling fails to consult the directory and gives the wrong number, the operator inevitably repeats the error. If the person called fails to answer promptly and the caller leaves the telephone, naturally there is "no one on the line."

Being human, the operator—the third link—is liable to err occasionally, but careful analysis demonstrates that she is not fairly chargeable with many of the difficulties frequently ascribed to her.

If Link No. 1 Gives the Right Number and Calls Distinctly and Link No. 3 Answers Promptly, the Telephone Company will be responsible for its part of the chain. If no higher motive actuated it, the motive of economy or self-interest would suffice.

vided for the children better than most railroad men."

"Mrs. Jones," shouted Mr. Smith, counsel for the railroad, "when you received the sad news of your husband's death, is it true that you endeavored to console your children's grief by informing them that they had another father on the Salt Lake line?"

To this Mrs. Casey Jones made no reply.

"Isn't it true?" roared Mr. Smith, "that you had promised to marry Steamboat Bill as soon as Mr. Casey was out of the way?"

Mrs. Casey denied the accusation but the defense had scored a strong point and it is believed that this was largely responsible for the verdict which gives Mrs. Jones only $1000.

Mrs. Jones will leave the city with her children tomorrow for her home in Fort Worth.

ASKED TO GIVE VISITORS MOTOR RIDES

Waco Auto Men Urged to Place Machines at Disposal of Ad Club Guests.

The following extracts taken from a letter which is being mailed to more than 1000 auto owners in Waco is self-explanatory. The members of the consolidated automobile clubs of the city and county are urged to take notice especially of the appeal and tender the use of their machines to the entertainment committee, that the visiting ad men may be shown the wonders of the "city of actualities" in the center of Texas.

The letter in part follows: Dear Sir:—On the 24th inst. we will be called upon to entertain approximately 1500 advertising men from the four corners of the United States, Canada and a large delegation from across the water. These men are delegates to the Associated Ad Clubs of America. If these gentlemen are treated cordially they will go forth and the name of Waco will be heralded before the world; if they visit Waco and cannot speak well of our hospitality it will be the severest blow ever dealt Waco; therefore, knowing before hand what the result will be, we must act, and act big.

To accommodate this vast assemblage, we must have 300 automobiles to show them the beauty spots in and around Waco and the wonderful possibilities of this country, and we are earnestly requesting you to lend your assistance. On the post card enclosed please state whether or not it will be possible for you to be on hand at the city depot at 1:30 p. m., May 24th, with your car to assist in entertaining these distinguished visitors. If you personally cannot be on hand, will you not have your car there, and a driver? You will enjoy this diversion yourself.

Please give this matter careful study—you realize what it means to Waco—and let us have a favorable reply from you on the enclosed card immediately.

Yours very truly,
WACO AD CLUB.

MR. AND MRS. W. E. DARDEN HAVE GUESTS AT DINNER

Last evening found a few invited in for dinner by Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Darden. The out of town courtesy fell to Mrs. Annie Kinnard Hardesty, who is over from New Orleans for a visit.

SHAKESPEARE CLUB CLOSING

On Monday afternoon the Shakespeare club for the current year took place. Mrs. E. M. Dotson handed the gavel to the incoming president, Mrs. F. J. Lennox, and other reports and farewell words announced the closing hour. The play of "Twelfth Night," which has been very much enjoyed, was finished. It was voted unanimously that there should be an afternoon outing, picnic fashion, at Cameron park. The club members will have guests, a picnic lunch and other pleasures. Mrs. R. B. Spencer, chairman of the social committee, with her helpers, will announce the details at the next meeting, a call one for the club. At this time a date for the outing will be named.

MORROW STREET MISSIONARY HAS A FULL MEETING

The last meeting of the Morrow street Missionary society was, as usual, full of business, some strictly business and other details to be worked out otherwise. The most pretentious undertaking for the present week was the response to the request from the pastor that the women take the religious census for their section of the city. They began bright and soon yesterday morning. It was decided, and all members will please take note, that the hour for meeting after this will be at 4 o'clock. Mrs. Abbott made a highly interesting report from the Missionary conference at Cleburne, from which she is just returned.

IT WAS UNANIMOUSLY DECIDED

to tender a farewell reception to Mrs. S. J. Sweeney, who, after these many years' residence in this city, is now leaving to reside with her daughter in California. The society could not let this valuable member depart without some public demonstration, so the will be a reception in the church parlors on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Sweeney the guest of honor. The hours are from 4 to 6, and every personal friend of the honoree is cordially invited. These friends are many, therefore the occasion will find a large attendance.

THE COLONIAL DAMES AWARD ANNUAL PRIZE

For several years there has been offered by the Colonial Dames of Texas to the high schools of eight of the largest Texas cities a ten dollar gold piece for the best essay upon some subject bearing upon colonial times or leaders. On Monday the award was made for the Waco school. There were nine contestants, both boys and girls. At dismissal there was a request made for all interested to remain to hear the award. Mesdames W. E. Darden and Edward Rotan, with Miss Clara White as the local Dames, were present. Mrs. Darden made a few remarks appropriate as well as explanatory. It was then announced that the prize was given to Powers McDougald, who was requested to read his essay. There was a singing of America, and adjournment with unmistakable patriotic feeling among the pupils. McDougald was congratulated upon all sides. His paper showed much research as well as skillful handling in the presentation. Benjamin Sleeper, who wrote upon Martha Washington, was very much complimented upon being a close second. The ten dollars last year was won by Ned Boynton. The high school teachers are aiding in every way to make this offer from the Colonial Dames fulfill its purpose.

There are now busy another set of pupils, who are competing for the five dollars offered by the Mary West chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy. Essays upon Sidney Lanier of Stonewall Jackson. It is understood that there is much interest and a full roster of contestants. This award will be made on Jefferson Davis' birthday, June 3rd, and the announcement made public at the high school graduating exercises.

THE A. FRIEDLANDER HOME RECEIVES CONGRATULATIONS

Following the announcement the day previous, nearly two hundred friends called at the Friedlander residence on Franklin street. These pressed forward to pay congratulations to the mother of the home, Mrs. A. Friedlander, in honor of the engagement of her daughter, Miss Sadie Friedlander, to Eli Marks. Not only were the home friends participants, but several came from other towns to give these same hearty congratulations. The occasion was one of such note that the form of an elaborate reception was observed, the decoration scheme being evolved from the bride and the maid colors of pink and white. The nature of the demonstration was suggested in the omni present heart even to the mold for the ice. In the parlor Mrs. Friedlander, with Miss Friedlander, also Mr. Marks and his mother, received. Here each curtain fall had its heart, the whole being united by malleable cords reaching between the windows. In the refreshment room the natural rosebud filled baskets and vases mantled, the heart effect being reserved for the candy shapes with which the tables was laid over its cluny cover. There was a guest book and this remains a souvenir to Mr. Marks and his fiancée of the first friends who joined in the happy event which they were just making known. Mrs. Abe Frank presided over this social register. Little Misses Dorothy Hart and Helen Marks ushered the incoming callers. Assisting through the afternoon were Miss Pauline Frank, Mrs. S. J. Davidson of Marlin, Misses Nannette Haber, Ophelia Mayer, Ray Marks, Cecile Strauss, Rose Friedlander. Nearly two hundred called.

THE CITY FEDERATION MEETS ON THURSDAY AFTERNOON

The club women are reminded again of their meeting at the library on Thursday afternoon. This is for winding up the financial side of the recent district meeting, as well as for the election of officers for the new year. All are urged to be present.

THE ABERNATHY-LAUGHLIN ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Amid much by way of deep interest as well as pretty appointment, there was announced the coming marriage of Miss Kate Laughlin to Richard Abernathy, both of this city. The hostess was Mrs. T. F. Bryan of South Fourth, who seems to have a predilection for such affairs. More than one bride has told her love's secret in Mrs. Bryan's parlors. This one was disclosed in quite a unique manner. Mrs. Bryan's invitations, it goes without saying, were delivered to the more intimate friends of Miss Laughlin, both maids and matrons. There were the usual pleasantries of congenial company with an affable hostess until there appeared from Cupid's land the tiny boy himself with his arrow fairly bearing down under its weight of hearts. This Cupid took the name of wee Master S. A. Ramsey, the nephew of the home. He handed a heart to each guest. When all had been distributed, he gave signal with his arrow, pointing to Miss Laughlin, and there went up about as all read from their hearts that on June the twenty-sixth Miss Laughlin would become the bride of Richard Abernathy. There was passed a salad plate and a refreshing cup, from which the bride was toasted by Miss Annie Mullens and the groom by Miss Minnie Elliott. The rooms where this interesting announcement was made were filled with the first nuptials of the season and wealth of greenery, in color contrast, blue was everywhere. Cupid was dressed in blue, the hearts were hand-painted in blue, and other symbols of the faith color were used. The honoree wore a becoming blue gown.

As soon as her classes closed, Miss Laughlin goes to Norman, Okla., where, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Lowry, the ceremony occurs, and Mr. Abernathy returns with his bride to his suburban home here.

SOCIETY WELCOMES BRIDE: HUNDREDS CALL AT COX HOME

At the home of Mrs. Ramsey Cox proved one of the largest gatherings Waco society has ever seen. It was one of the prettiest home appointments ever arranged for a similar event. Naturally attractive in its interior finish and one of the most commanding exteriors in the city, it was natural that this should attract a moving picture in the social world. This home overlooks the delicacy towards the river. At one time it looked out upon a mass of the color carpet on a spring prairie. In this memory there were gathered a wealth of spring beauties for the porch setting. There were drawn the porch furniture into inviting positions, and here many lingered after their respects had been paid in explanation. This was the first general reception to the friends of the home which Mrs. Cox had made. That these friends are many is attested by the literal crush, and by the hundreds of baskets in homes now holding the invitation. This invitation read that Mrs. Cox received in honor of Mrs. W. S. Witte, the daughter of the home, who is now a bride. The tiny daughter, Dorothy, presented the card tray to guests who soon sought the hostess with her gracious bride daughter. There was also given opportunity to pay formal good wishes to the two coming brides, now Miss Willie Seely and Miss Marguerite Brown. The cool of the hour gave opportunity for turning a flood of artificial light upon the scene, thus giving a radiance to the gowns of the house party, all in full reception attire. There were roses, roses everywhere, except in the punch room, which was reserved for a tribute to the arrival of the sweet pea as society's favorite spring flower. There was a flood of music from the landing above in addition to the flood of light and of beauty. Mesdames Clarence Hubby and Joseph Mitchell were matrons of the punch room. Miss Grace Cox assisted. The stream of callers amounted to a crush for an hour or more. All received cordial greetings, and all gave good wishes galore to the hostess and her gracious daughter. Dr. and Mrs. Witte slipped away so quietly after their marriage that friends have ever since felt that they had been denied a happy privilege in extending congratulations. The last hour found a number of the men calling and in this Mr. Cox and Dr. Witte were seen mingling freely among the many whom real enjoyment detained beyond the prescribed time for a reception call. Those who had been shown special courtesy in being requested to remain throughout the evening hours were:

Mesdames E. R. Nash, Joseph Mitchell, Erwin Clark, H. B. Mistro, Charles Hamilton, Stark West, J. E. Horne, W. W. Cameron, William Mistro, J. W. Sowers, J. H. Mackey, James Mistro, Norman Shumate, Clarence Hubby, George McGehee, Ernest Groos, M. A. Cooper, Jessie Gray Smith, H. L. Smythe, Joseph Cornett, R. L. Lazenby, Coke Horne, W. R. Davidson, Frank Wheeler, John Horsful, George Hunter, Smith, Harry Lee Spencer, Misses Etta Horne, Karen Heard, Margaret Horne, Kate Edmond, Rosalie Sturgis, Rose Edmond, Minnie Taylor, Bertine White of Banham, Mary Glover, Eleanor Blair, Nettie May Wilkes.

Society Notes.

Among recent visitors has been Mrs. Sidney Olive, who spent a few days en route from Dallas to Beaumont. After a short visit to Mrs. Calhoun there, Mrs. Olive is leaving for Battle Creek, Mich., with Mrs. Eugene Crowder. Later, the summer will be spent at Atlantic City. The Allison family will find Miss Allison for her summer vacation.

Since her visit to Waco, Mrs. Eli Hartzberg has been the round of the five district meetings. She writes of her arrival at home, and sends most cordial letter to the Waco women, appreciative of their courtesies and complimentary to their well-conducted convention.

The spring bulletin of her publishers has to say of Miss Jessie Cora Chamberlain's book of poems, "Rhythms of Nature." In these graceful poems one revels in the beauty of April, May and June, among cherry blossoms, daffodils, buttercups, pansies and daisies, amid oaks and wild vines, inhaling the clean, fresh fragrance of nature's out of doors.

After Thursday Mrs. Sam McLendon and Miss Pauline McLendon will be guests of Mrs. J. S. McLendon on Austin avenue, until their departure for the North for the summer.

There had been favorable reports from Mrs. Charles Slaughter of North Thirteenth, who had been extremely ill, until yesterday. A change makes her many friends quite anxious.

The coming fortnight finds the Taylor home on South Fourth, closed for the summer. Miss Taylor, J. R. Downs and Guy Taylor leave to spend the warm season in Colorado.

Mrs. George McLendon is entertaining the Euchre club out at the Huaco this afternoon.

The visit of Mrs. G. M. Hackler to her sister, Mrs. George McLendon, was curtailed by the sickness of the little son, with whom she returned to Dallas.

During the absence of Mrs. F. C. McConnell, Mrs. Rousseau is chaperaine to the home. With the return of Mrs. McConnell the two will take immediate departure for a summer absence.

Miss Inez Keith, now of Cuero, arrives today to be the guest of Mrs. Guy Daughtrey at Alta Vista. Mrs. Keith is now permanently located in Cuero, having bought a home there and formed quite a circle of friends. Miss Keith continues a visit to San Antonio by returning here for a short while.

Mrs. Nathan Patten is just at home from Dallas, where she, with another guest, enjoyed a round of social action, while with Mrs. Felix Robertson.

Miss Mary Elliott of New York, has joined the Patten household on North Sixteenth street permanently.

Miss Lucile Royal of North Thirteenth, who has been visiting her aunt at College Station, remains for the gayeties of the A. & M. commencement. She then returns to Waco, preparatory to leaving for the summer in California.

Miss Josephine James of North Thirteenth, has returned from LeRoy, where she has been teaching. With the first of June she returns to her home in Mississippi for the summer.

Mrs. J. B. Cornish is preparing for her summer absence. With her present guest, Mrs. Raynor of Pennsylvania, she takes water passage for New York City, and later makes a more permanent stop with relatives in Pittsburg for the summer.

The Violet bridge is playing this afternoon with Mrs. Alex Sanger on West Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Wise are making ready for their annual trip to Colorado. The principal stop will be at the Cliff House, in Manitou Springs.

Among the visitors in immediate prospect is Mrs. Bloomfield, formerly Miss Pauline Kirschner, who comes from Mississippi for the confirmation of her niece, Miss Mildred Freund. Mrs. Bloomfield promised her visit much earlier, but she has been detained by the flood situation.

With two revivals in progress and one just closed, church going is in the very air.

Mrs. Hunter Stiles is opening her Washington street cottage to the Priscillas this afternoon.

BLISS KNAPP SPEAKS ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

MEMBER BOARD OF LECTURESHIP, TELLS WHAT CHURCH STANDS FOR.

A lecture on Christian Science was delivered last night at the Carnegie library by Bliss Knapp, C. S. B., a member of the board of lecturership of the mother church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Boston. Mr. Knapp said, in part:

Many people have asked the question, "How do you know that Christian Science is not the result of an opinion?" We might to advantage draw some analogy from mathematics. The text-book writer of mathematics confines himself to stating the facts concerning the mathematical law with such accuracy and truth that when understood and obeyed they may be demonstrated. Even so Mrs. Eddy confined herself to stating the facts concerning the divine law of "Spirit of truth," with such precision and simplicity that when understood and obeyed, they may be demonstrated in healing all manner of sickness and sin. Therein is its science. Therein is it eliminated from the realm of opinion.

Mrs. Eddy Honored.

It may be of interest to learn that the simple reading of Science and Health has healed disease and sin. This is the more notable since it is the only book since the writings of the primitive Christians to effect cures of mind and body by the simple study and contemplation of its truths. The last chapter of this text-book, called "Fruitage," contains a hundred pages of testimonials in evidence of the fact that the simple study of the book has healed such diseases as consumption, locomotor ataxia, cancers, tumors, curvature of the spine, and so on. In recognition of her distinguished services the French government has honored Mrs. Eddy by causing M. Briand, at that time minister of public instruction and fine arts, to decorate Mrs. Eddy officer of the French academy.

Says Disease Mental.

Mrs. Eddy has presented the understanding of this Christ law with such simplicity and accuracy that even the children and young people can gain its spiritual meaning which reveals the power and presence of God, and thereby liberates them from suffering and sin of every sort. This is on the basis that the cause of disease is mental. Diseases of a mysterious sort are today on the increase and some are considered by many to be incurable. Christian Science heals all such diseases. It is possibly true that seventy-five per cent of those who are Christian Scientists today have been healed by its ministrations after reputable physicians have given them up as beyond all hope of recovery, and all on the basis of the Christian Science teaching that disease in its cause is not physical, but mental. Consumption, for example, is considered by

HONEYMOON THOUGHTS AS DRAWN BY FISHER

NEWS ARTIST BACK ON THE JOB. MUTT AND JEFF ARE HAVING MORE TROUBLE.

Mutt and Jeff, or rather "Bud Fisher," is back on the job again, and "Bud" is married. That explains why the picture stories appearing in The News Tuesday and this morning, are of the honeymoon variety. "Bud" made the "leap" about three weeks ago and since that time, an understudy has been doing the work. Bud's friends, however, are glad that he's back again, and this includes all who have ever followed his work closely.

During his honeymoon, which was spent in Los Angeles, New Orleans and other ports, Fisher made but one drawing, and that was for money. He's back in the office row, however, and his work will appear regularly, that is if his wife doesn't insist on his staying home at night, and thus prevent him from getting ideas.

ISMAY STARTS FUND.

Liverpool, May 14.—J. Bruce Ismay, managing director of the White Star line, has contributed $50,000 to a fund which Mr. Ismay suggests that the earl of Derby, who is lord mayor of Liverpool, should initiate in order to provide pensions for the widows of seamen who lost their lives while serving in vessels of the British mercantile marine.

many to be an incurable disease. It is considered that no known drug or medicine can heal consumption in its advanced stages. Therefore, the usual method of today is to resort to what is known as the nature cure; outdoor life, exercise and pure air are resorted to in the hope that abating the white plague, as it is called. It is generally conceded that consumption is largely a consuming fear and manifestly no drug or medicine can cure fear. The Bible declares that "fear hath torment," but "perfect love casteth out fear." One of the largest factors in all disease is fear, and there is no known remedy for fear of any sort, save only the tenderness and compassion of unselfed love. It is that understanding of God as divine love that enables the Christian Scientist to cast out the fear of consumption and destroy its physical effects. On this same basis Christian Science heals cancers, tumors, pneumonia, locomotor ataxia, etc.—heals them permanently. The carnal so-called mind cannot effect a permanent cure because this carnal mind is the source, origin and cause of disease, and the same mind which produces disease cannot destroy it. If there seems to be a cure it is a case of a greater error covering up but not healing a lesser error.

STOCK AND BOND LAW CHANGE IS DISCUSSED

Y. M. B. L. DIRECTORS TO CONSIDER SPURLIN PROPOSITION FOR IMPROVEMENT.

City Physician Would Cut Down the Death Rate—One Hotel "Promoter" and $20 Gone.

Consideration of a resolution asking the amendment of the stock and bond law of Texas, as advocated by John L. Spurlin, promoter of the Waco-Beaumont railroad, and the presentation by Dr. E. Toomin, city physician, of clean-up plans for the city, in addition to the employment of a nurse to teach mothers how to properly care for their children, marked the meeting last night of members of the Young Men's Business league. Mr. Spurlin went into his proposition at great length, explaining its necessity in order to induce the building of more railroads in the state. Under existing clauses of the stock and bond law, a railroad must first be built and the bonds sold afterward. After considerable discussion the resolution was referred to the board of directors of the league for action.

Mr. Spurlin arrived in the city yesterday on his return from Beaumont, and leaves this morning for his home in Hamilton. He remained over last night to present the proposition to the club, and wants a Waco club to have the honor of first endorsing it. He feels considerably encouraged as a result of the meeting at Beaumont last Saturday, and believes much sentiment in favor of the road has been secured. He has a number of conferences arranged with prominent railroad men for the next week.

Wants Action.
The resolution which he asked endorsed recites:

Whereas, There is urgent need for additional railroad mileage in Texas and for an improvement of the existing railroads in the state; and

Whereas, The bonds of several Texas railroad companies will soon mature and they will desire to execute other bonds in lieu thereof of the same face value; and

Whereas, The present stock and bond law of Texas is an impediment to the accomplishment of these ends; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That we favor and urge upon the next legislature the importance of enacting a law amending the stock and bond law as

(a) To authorize railroad companies to execute and sell in advance of construction bonds or other obligations secured by a lien upon the railroads to be constructed with the proceeds of the sale of such bonds or other obligations.

(b) To authorize railroad companies to issue bonds or other obligations secured by a lien upon permanent additions, betterments and improvements, for the purpose of making such additions, betterments and improvements, said bonds to be authorized without reference to the amount of prior outstanding lien obligations.

(c) To authorize any railroad company whose bonds or any part thereof were issued prior to the passage of the Texas stock and bond law, upon maturity thereof refund the same, dollar for dollar.

The issuance of all such bonds should, of course, be surrounded with such safeguards as may be deemed proper and adequate for the protection of the public against fictitious issues of indebtedness and to insure the use of the money secured from the proceeds of the sale thereof for the purpose for which the bonds were issued.

Would Cut Death Rate.

Dr. E. Toomin, city physician, asked the endorsement of the league in the clean-up campaign which will be carried out in Waco next week. North of Austin avenue is scheduled to be spotless after Monday night. Tuesday is clean-up day south of Austin avenue, and Thursday is "wash day" in East Waco. Dr. Toomin also advocated the employment by the city of a nurse to visit and teach mothers in poor circumstances as to the proper care of infants and small children. By doing this, Dr. Toomin says, the death rate will be cut down, as it has been in other cities. In this connection he urged that stringent measures be adopted to insure the greatest possible purity in the milk supply.

THREE CITIES WANT NEXT MEETING

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS AND SISTERS HUSILY ENGAGED IN GRAND LODGE WORK.

Conventions Formally Open Tuesday With Welcoming Addresses. Reports Made.

Election of grand lodge officers and selection of the next meeting place, in addition to various features of lodge work, will mark the sessions today of the grand lodge of the Knights of Pythias and the grand temple of the Pythian Sisters of Texas, the two branches of the organization holding conventions in Waco.

Many prominent knights are being mentioned for the offices, and Corpus Christi, Texarkana and Brownwood have after the 1913 convention. The program for the grand lodge today includes:

9 a. m.—Session of grand lodge, Cotton Palace.

Panoramic photograph of grand lodge Wednesday noon at Cotton Palace.

12 noon to 2 p. m.—Lunch, in which the grand lodge will be guests of Cowan lodge No. 77.

2 p. m.—Session of grand lodge, Cotton Palace.

8 to 9 p. m.—Contest for friendship medal, now held by Brother Tom May, Ennis No. 11.

9 p. m.—Adjournment to attend school of instruction and exemplification of the secret work by degree team of Crawford temple No. 65.

Pythian Sisters, of Crawford, Texas. The program for the grand temple of Pythian Sisters today follows:

9 a. m.—Grand temple session, Castle hall.

2 p. m.—Memorial hour. Open session. Public invited. Castle hall.

3 p. m.—Grand temple session.

8:30 p. m.—Exemplification of the secret work by Crawford temple No. 65, at Castle hall. All members invited. Applications for membership will be received.

Welcomes Cordial.

The two conventions were formally opened Tuesday morning in joint session at the Cotton Palace, where welcoming addresses were made by Mayor J. H. Mackey, Pat M. Neff and A. R. McCollum. Responses were made by Judge R. H. Buck of Fort Worth and Mrs. E. R. Maloney. Hon. Robert H. Rogers, grand tribune, presided over the meeting. The rest of the day's program was devoted to lodge work.

Fort Worth and Marlin teams were entries last night in the contest by competing rank, amplified form teams, which was held at the Cotton Palace, and it is said that the Fort Worth team will obtain the prize. Memorial services were held at the Cotton Palace by the grand lodge Tuesday afternoon, and many words of tenderness for the departed ones were expressed.

The institution of a number of new lodges was recited in the annual report of Judge R. H. Buck, grand chancellor, read yesterday. The new lodges are Port Lavaca, Hubbard, Lambros, Fort Stockton, Mon Ami, New Castle, Iredell, Ocean View, Lyons, Mission, Rosenberg and Yorktown. Charters of twenty-six former lodges have been revoked, the report also recited.

Henry Miller, grand keeper of the records and seal, reported 25,437 members at the present time.

ed to the attic from which they directed a steady fusillade.

Trains from Paris conveying working people to their homes slowly passed over the bridge, affording thousands a view of the fight. Another bomb was exploded. Despite the fact that the villa cracked and was badly damaged, it remained standing and a seemingly inexhaustible hail of lead continued to pour from within.

After a time firing ceased, the bandits either being exhausted or saving their ammunition while the soldiers were forced to discontinue pending the arrival of a new stock of cartridges from Fort Nogent.

At 11:25 two more dynamite cartridges were exploded and a portion of one of the walls toppled over. Nevertheless the bandits apparently succeeded in finding shelter in what remained of the structure.

Leaves Yawning Opening.
The explosion left a yawning opening in the villa through which police dogs sprang while the police and troops sent volley after volley of shots into the ruins of the building.

Some of the bullets ricocheted from the bricks while others emerged on the opposite side, the result of which was that two policemen were wounded. Then an armed force holding torches rushed into the building and found the two bandits on the floor in a room. One

FREDERICK OF DENMARK IS DEAD

MONARCH DIES AT HAMBURG PALACE FOLLOWING SUDDEN ILLNESS.

Ascended Danish Throne in 1908 After Death of His Father, King Christian IX.

By The Associated Press.

London, May 15.—King Frederick VIII of Denmark, died suddenly this morning at Hamburg.

By The Associated Press.

Hamburg, May 15.—King Frederick of Denmark took ill at the Hamburg palace and died late last night.

Christian Frederick was proclaimed king of Denmark as Frederick VIII on June 30, 1908, after the death of Christian IX the aged king who was the dean of the crowned heads of Europe, father of King George of Greece, of the Queen mother Alexandra of Great Britain the Empress Dowager of Russia, and grandfather of King Haakon of Norway.

King Frederick VIII was born at Copenhagen June 3, 1843. He was as popular with the people of Denmark as was his father. By the wish of his parents he was brought up with great simplicity. Frederick saw his younger brother and his own son become reigning monarchs of Greece and Norway respectively, while he himself was still an heir apparent.

King Frederick was noted for his culture and possessed many foreign distinctions. While seldom openly identifying himself with political questions, he took an active part in all public movements. He was at one time chancellor of Copenhagen University and a Free Mason of high rank. He was well known as a promoter of philanthropic objects. His interest in the army, of which he once was inspector general, was keen and he introduced many reforms which improved the condition of the soldiers.

He suffered a serious illness. While taking his customary walk he had a sudden seizure and was compelled to return to the palace. Later it was announced that he had suffered a chill but the real nature of his malady was not disclosed.

While he showed rapid recovery, he suffered a relapse two weeks later and considerable anxiety was expressed by members of the court as to his condition.

was entirely naked save for a few tattered rags. He appeared to be dead. Callette was dead or dying. The crowd, now wildly enraged, rushed up and tried to seize the bandits. With great difficulty the police drove them back and placed the wounded men in automobiles. The automobile barked as they were started away and efforts were again made by the mob to tear the desperadoes from the troops. Hundreds surrounded the prefect of police and with cries of "Viva Lepine" tried to carry him off in triumph.

Local News Notes

Hal V. Hays, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Hays, who was recently promoted to the position of special agent and adjuster for the Hays Bros. insurance agency, made his initial trip Tuesday.

Judge W. E. Ramsey, candidate for governor, was a Waco visitor last night. Notwithstanding the fact that he may be governor, Judge Ramsey had considerable trouble last night in securing a room and made the rounds of the hotels. He was finally cared for. He leaves this morning for the south, where he will make a number of speeches.

W. M. Imboden of Tusas, candidate for lieutenant-governor, spent the night in the city, being registered at the Natatorium.

D. G. Hickman of Miami, is in Waco to attend the grand lodge of the Knights of Pythias.

A. T. Powell of Fort Worth, a prominent broker, was in the city last night.

C. H. Powell, cashier of the First National Bank of San Angelo, and J. V. Clement of the same bank, are in Waco to attend the Pythian meeting.

MARY STREET STORM SEWER NOW CERTAIN

COTTON BELT TO SHARE EXPENSE WITH CITY—KATY TO DO DOUBLE-TRACKING.

That the much discussed Mary street storm sewer, which has engaged the attention of the city commissioners will be built soon, was decided at a meeting of the city commissioners Tuesday morning following a conference between the commissioners and Chief Engineer C. E. Purden of the Cotton Belt and President F. H. Britton of the same road, who appeared before the board. It was agreed that the cost of the sewer should be borne equally between the railroad and the city. The railroad agreed to remove and replace all tracks which may be in the path of the sewer.

The work will be done by contract and Chief Engineer Purden and City Engineer Stephen Turner will assist in securing satisfactory bids on the work. The sewer will be 6 feet in diameter where it empties into the river, tapering from a diameter of two feet at the beginning in the vicinity of Eleventh and Mary streets.

Chief Engineer Alex Atcheson of the Katy railroad, accompanied by W. H. Hoffman, W. W. Cameron and E. W. Carball and others, appeared before the commissioners and requested the city to grant the railroad a franchise right over 14 feet additional space on the north side of Jackson street from Thirteenth street to Sixteenth street, in connection with some double tracking, which the road proposes to put in to relieve the congestion in the switching district. The request received favor at the hands of the commissioners, and City Attorney Williams was instructed to prepare an ordinance to that effect. The ordinance will be presented at the Friday morning meeting of the board.

WACO WINS LAST AND ALL FROM GALVESTON

NAVIGATORS OUTHIT AND OUT-PLAYED, REPORT SAYS, YET WIN ANYWAY.

Doubles and Two-Bagger in Seventh Tie Score—Waco to Beaumont for Series.

By The Associated Press.

Galveston, May 14.—Waco made it three straight here this afternoon, taking the last game of the series with the Sand Crabs by a score of 2 to 1. The visitors were outthit and outplayed, and it was pure luck that gave them the contest. A question of a decision, combined with a two-bagger in the seventh, gave them the run which tied the score, and in the eighth two walks, a sacrifice hit and a sacrifice fly gave them their winning count. The locals fought hard, but could not hit the ball in the pinches. Waco leaves tonight for Beaumont.

Dallas 4, Beaumont 0.
By The Associated Press.
Beaumont, May 14.—Rube Evans pitched an easy victory for the Dallas team this afternoon. He was not hittable at any stage of the game, and to add to Beaumont's discomfort, Brandt was wild in the outset, and from two walks, two hits, three stolen bases, a wild pitch and an error by Edmiston, all in the first inning, the visitors garnered three runs. Corbin stole home in the fourth inning. Brandt stood and looked at him, with the ball in his hand, and forgot to throw it. The score:

San Antonio 1, Austin 0.
By The Associated Press.
Austin, May 14.—In one of the best games of the season, San Antonio defeated Austin by a score of 1 to 0 this afternoon. It was a pitchers' battle, in which Browning had the better of it. Lefty Lewis, who worked for the Senators, pitched excellent ball, but was hit much more frequently than his opponent. The Bronchos had a man on third many times. LOSES TWO BICYCLES
Bike Thieves Concentrate On W. A. Walker; One & Night Their Average.

W. A. Walker thinks he holds the record for having bicycles stolen from him. Inside of a month he has been robbed of two wheels worth upwards of $80. The last one was removed soon after dark last night from the front porch of his home, tenth and Ross streets. He traced it on to the dirt walk the scent of the cement. It was a $30 machine, Clay, where he lost the scent on the occasion of his first bike's disappearance. It bore his letters, W. A. W.

According to the police, bicycle stealing is growing in popularity, at least one bicycle being stolen every night. This record has been maintained for months, some nights running as high as three or four when the picking is good. A very small percentage of the offenders have been caught. Agitation has been begun for an anti-bike thief association.

WON'T PRODUCE PAPERS SAYS STEEL

CORPORATION DECLINES TO FURNISH CONTRACTS WITH SUBSIDIARIES.

Other Documents Wanted by Prosecution Are Lost or Destroyed, Defense Asserts.

By The Associated Press.

New York, May 14.—The refusal of the attorneys of the United States Steel corporation to produce certain papers wanted by the government and the discovery that other documents which the corporation was subpoenaed to produce had either been destroyed or could not be found, furnished the sensation of today's hearing of the government's suit to dissolve the corporation. The papers which the corporation's attorneys refused to produce are two contracts between the American Tin and Sheet Plate Company, a subsidiary of the corporation, and the American Can Company, whereby the company is alleged to have obtained its supply of tin plate at preferential prices. D. G. Reid and Judge W. H. Moore, directors of the steel corporation, are also directors of the can company.

Won't Produce Papers.
"We decline to produce these contracts," announced R. V. Lindbergh, chief counsel for the corporation, "on the ground that they disclose the company's private business of fair with one of its customers."

The refusal would stand, Mr. Lindbergh stated, until the right of the government to possess the documents had been ruled upon by United States circuit judges to whom the testimony will be certified.

Contracts are Missing
The documents destroyed or missing consisted of contracts between the American Tin Plate Company and manufacturers of tin plate machinery whereby it is alleged the use of the machinery by competitors of the steel trust subsidiary was prevented; of an alleged five-year contract between the tin plate company and the Sharon Steel Company for taking the latter's output and of similar contracts alleged to have been made by the American Sheet Steel Company. Carl Wheeler, a secretary of the Sheet and Tin Plate Company who has been subpoenaed to produce the contracts, testified that he himself had destroyed the machinery contracts "about 1904."

"By whose authority did you destroy them?"
"My own."

"You exercised your own judgment without authority from the board of directors?"
"In this case, yes. There were a number of obsolete papers which I destroyed and I presume these contracts were among them as I have not seen them since."

The other nontrials, Wheeler said, he had been unable to find.
"Did you make a thorough search?"

"Well, I had a search made. They tell me that they can't find them anywhere."

"Well, I instruct you to make a find them, we will have those subpoenas."

MUST JAR CLOCKS 9000 TIMES TO GET AT SUM

Safe Experts Rig Up Battering Ram and Jolt Timeclock Mechanism to Open Vault.

Special to The Morning News.

Columbus, May 14.—Holding $1700 in checks and money, the big time lock safe in the treasurer of state's office has refused to open since last Tuesday. Expert safe men determined that in order to get the safe opened the four little clocks regulating the big locks would have to be jolted just 9000 times.

A big steel battering ram was swung from the ceiling and with the help of half a dozen strong men it has been hammered against the big safe door for five days. Up until late today only 4586 blows had been struck, leaving 4414 blows yet to be struck before the door of the safe can be opened.

REPUBLICAN CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION SATURDAY
Delegates From Five Central Texas Counties to Waco Then; T. R. Favorite.

The republican congressional convention will be held at the city hall at 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Delegates from the five counties, McLennan, Coryell, Falls, Bell and Hamilton, composing the 11 congressional district counties, will be present. Two delegates will be chosen to attend the national republican convention in Chicago. Matters affecting the welfare of the party in Central Texas and the state will be discussed.

According to the precinct primary and the county convention, returns of the Central Texas delegation is decidedly a Roosevelt affair. Three of the four delegates selected to attend the senate convention to Fort Worth are known to favor Teddy, while one favors Taft. However, it is understood that the district is considerably divided, it being almost an even break for both factions.

MARKET OPENS FIRM CROP REPORT FACTOR

APPROXIMATION OF GOVERNMENT STATEMENT IN NEXT THREE WEEKS IS FELT.

By The Associated Press.
New York, May 14.—The market opened steady at a decline of 2 to 6 points and during the first few minutes sold about 7 to 8 points net lower under scattering liquidation and bear pressure. Inspired by easier Liverpool cables and a fairly good weather map. An announcement from the department of agriculture that the first government crop report of the season would be published June 1, and, as in recent seasons, would estimate the acreage condition of the crop as of May 25, instead of being postponed until the first of July, inspired active covering at the initial decline, however, and the market showed increased firmness during the balance of the day.

The high point was reached in the late trading, and the close was within 2 or 3 points of the best. Possibly rather less favorable official forecast than expected by local weather experts helped to rally the market from the low level, and the weekly report of the weather bureau was probably a little more favorable than looked for, but the main factor appeared to be the apprehension of a bullish government report within the next three weeks.

Owing to the fact that a bill providing that the first report of the government this year should not be published until the first of July had passed the house some time ago, an impression had been created in the circles that no official statement either as to acreage or condition was to be expected until after the end of next month. The action of the market therefore was said to suggest that a report as to May 25 was expected to be more bullish than a report later in the season, evidently because of the admittedly late start and delayed farm work.

The buying was not general on the advance and there was a good deal of cotton for sale on a scale up, but shorts evidently were nervous and there was considerable support from Wall street and southern bulls.

Receipts 8419 bales, against 14,482 last week and 8336 last year. Total receipts at New Orleans 1972, against 1780 last year; at Houston 1972, against 1150 last year, and at Galveston 1766, against 3631 last year.

ACTIVE DEMAND RESCUES OPTION FROM THE BEARS

CORN PRICES STRONG AT LAST, DESPITE MARKET RULING LISTLESS EARLIER.

By The Associated Press.
Chicago, May 14.—Active demand here today for spot delivery for wheat rescued the option market from the bears. A big decrease in the world supply total helped and prices closed steady at a range varying from 1/2c lower to 1/4c advance as compared with the previous night. Corn scored a net gain of 1/4c @ 1/2c, oats finished 1/4c off to 1/2c up, and provisions were dearer by 5 @ 15c.

At first the wheat market, tended downward, following reports of an improved crop outlook and of favorable weather. Many poolings, one of which amounted to nearly 2,000,000 bushels, went on sale during the weakness. The yield of the current year in Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas made the total 162,000,000 bushels to 182,000,000 bushels, against 108,000,000 last year. Nevertheless the owners of the principal stock of cash wheat here kept steadily absorbing the offerings of futures. It afterward developed that sales to millers and to other actual consumers were much above the ordinary average.

When the market began to rally, fresh attention was given to the remarkable rise of world's available supply decrease, 8,508,000 bushels for the week, an aggregate of more than 3,000,000 bushels in excess of the falling off at the corresponding time twelve months back.

Although the corn market ruled listless and mainly lower most of the day, prices were strong at the last. Industries here and elsewhere were said to be filled up and unable to care for all of the current arrivals. Developing strength in wheat, however, started shorts covering and brought about an upturn.

Fine weather led to free selling of oats. Many of the traders who bought yesterday were unloading. Provisions were helped upward by the high mark at the yards. Outside demand during most of the day was light, but expanded somewhat near the close. Lard showed the chief increase in cost, 12 1/2 @ 15c.

SPECIALTIES RULE ON STOCK EXCHANGE

UNITED STATES STEEL ONCE MORE TAKES OLD PLACE AS LEADER IN MARKET.

By The Associated Press.
New York, May 14.—Dealings in securities on the stock exchange today were devoted largely to the specialties and other minor issues to the neglect, if not the detriment, of the more standard shares. Lehigh Valley and Reading contributed their usual degree of activity with some early strength, while United States Steel once more took its old place as leader, transactions in that stock far exceeding those in any other issue, at a material gain. In fact, steel manifested more underling strength than at any time since the report of its unfavorable statement a fortnight back.

Other movements noticeable included Canadian Pacific, which rose to 56 3/4, thereby eclipsing all previous high records; International Harvester which advanced almost 5 points from its early low figures on rumors of a settlement of the dissolution suit; and Sears Roebuck, which touched its best quotation for the year on relatively large transactions. There also were activities in American Sugar which held firm despite the failure of the directors to increase the dividends.

Bonds were irregular today, some of the better known issues tending toward heaviness. A rise of almost four points in the 4 1/2 per cent bonds of the Dupont Powder Company was the one feature. Total sales par value aggregated $287,600.

Fanana 3's registered declined 1 1/2 per cent on call.

DRY POISON IS BEST FOR USE IN FIELDS

Special to The Morning News.

College Station, Tex., May 14.—The garden web worm or "careless worm," has made its appearance in extreme South Texas, particularly in Goliad, San Patricio and Duval counties, and is doing considerable damage to cotton by devouring leaves, according to a statement issued today by Wilmon Newell, state entomologist of Texas, at the A. & M. college.

This worm, somewhat resembles the cotton leaf worm or "army worm," which did much damage to cotton last year, but it is not as serious a pest as the latter, in that it is not likely to persist through the season. Fortunately, the pest is easily controlled. It is only necessary to apply to the cotton, in dust form, the poison known as powdered arsenate of lead. This is a white, fine dust and the method of application is to make a small sack of cotton cloth, place the poison in it, tie the sack to a short stick and then dust the cotton lightly with it. One man can dust the cotton as fast as he can walk along the row and the dusting is facilitated by the operator carrying another short stick with which to tap the one having the sack on it. About two pounds of powdered arsenate of lead is sufficient to destroy the pest on small cotton.

In fields where the cotton is nearly waist high, a more rapid and economical method is to suspend a sack of poison to each end of a pole about six feet in length. This pole is then carried across the saddle in front of a laborer on horseback, who rides between the rows, shaking out the poison. The powdered arsenate of lead is not diluted with anything before application. On large cottons from three to four pounds per acre are required. The poison will not scorch or burn the leaves of cotton no matter how heavily applied.

In emergencies where the powdered arsenate of lead cannot be applied, the worms may be destroyed in the same manner with Paris green, mixed with air slaked lime at the rate of one part Paris green to five parts of the lime. This should be dusted onto the plants very lightly, at a rate not to exceed one-fourth pound of Paris green to the acre, for the reason that Paris green, no matter how lightly applied, is itself injurious to the cotton plant and will always reduce final yield.

There is no necessity to buy spraying machinery for destroying this pest, nor is there any use to use liquid spray for its destruction. It requires many tons of water to spray a cotton field, and it is expensive. Dry applications are as effective as liquid spray. White arsenic and caustic soda should never be applied to cotton. Either will do about as much damage as the insects. Powdered arsenate of lead is the preferable poison, is safest, cheapest, most effective and not controlled by notice prices.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Sealed bids marked "Proposal for Construction of Concrete Culverts," for furnishing all tools, materials, labor etc., addressed to Mr. P. A. Gorman, Commissioner of S. S. & P. L. Waco, Texas, will be received at the office of the City Secretary to be opened and considered by the Mayor and Commission at 10 a. m., May 21st, 1912. Bids shall be for each culvert separately, as follows: Jefferson street culvert near 20th St., Fort street culvert near 21st St., Bond for one-fourth of the price bid will be required of the successful bidder. Plans and specifications are on file at the City Engineering Office. The Mayor and City Commissioners do hereby reserve the right to reject any or all bids. 5-21

BABY GROWS TOOTH WITH SILVER FILLING

Metal in Molar When Cut—Phenomenon Amazes Dentist.

Special to The Morning News.

Toledo, O., May 14.—Persons born with gold spoons in their mouths are common, but for a boy to be born with the makings of silver teeth in his system was never heard of until Dr. Zarbough, introduced little Johnny Schnittker, 6, to the dentists of three states in convention here.

One day Mrs. A. F. Schnittker, John's mother, thought she saw a pin in her baby's mouth. She grabbed him and reached for the pin, but found none. Then she pried open the baby's mouth with her finger and scratched what appeared to be a patch of metal on top of a new molar the baby had cut.

The patch did not come off. Marveling, the mother then took the baby to Dr. Zarbough, who had filled with silver a molar in the mother some eight months before the baby was born.

The dentist knew that parental influence sometimes gave children defective or strongly formed teeth, but he could not readily believe that nature could create an actual metal filling in the teeth of a baby before the babe was born or a tooth was visible.

The dentist scratched the metal patch on the baby's tooth with sharp instruments. It grew brightly, like a piece of silver that is scratched. He has watched the tooth ever since. The tooth and the metal patch have grown correspondingly. It presents exactly the same appearance as does the mother's tooth which was filled with silver.

The dentists here examined the boy's mouth and found the metallic substance, and are at a complete loss to understand what it is. The dentists decided to take X-ray photos of the tooth for future examination.

JUDGES' ERRORS GIVE TWO MEN NEW TRIALS

One Jurist Acted As Prosecutor and the Other Walked to Back of Court Room.

Special to The Morning News.

Oklahoma City, May 14.—J. C. Lilly, one of the men convicted of the famous Stroud holdup in 1908, when 75 Bulgarians were robbed of their money and valuables, was granted a new trial by the criminal judge of appeals, because District Judge Roy Hoffman left the bench and prosecuted the man before a judge pro tem, Judge J. J. Carney of Oklahoma City.

The court, through Judge Armstrong, held that an attorney when elevated to the bench of any court of record, is prohibited from practicing law as an attorney, counselor or advocate in any of the state courts so long as he occupies his position.

Judge Armstrong delivered a similar opinion in the case of John S. Wright, charged with statutory assault. In this case the trial judge left his bench and walked to the back of the court room during the argument.

Other opinions by the court were: By Judge Furman, R. W. McKinley, Cherokee, contempt of court, appeal dismissed; Luther McFarland, LeFlore, liquor, affirmed.

By Judge Armstrong: Marcellus Sullivan, Pottawatomie, burglary, reversed; Sam Hunter, manslaughter, affirmed; A. W. Gillespie, Garfield, liquor, reversed and remanded; W. B. Grant, Pottawatomie, liquor, reversed and remanded.

Who Is Who? Ask the Poultry man.

TEXAS SHOULD LEAD.

While the two rival candidates for governor are disputing the claims of each as to who is entitled to the honor of broaching penitentiary reform, The News would respectfully refer the public to the efforts of the press along this line, and especially the work of The News through its editorial columns. Both candidates for governor are in favor of a better treatment of the convicts, but The News would like for them to quit talking about the "bat," which has been abolished upon the recommendation of the penitentiary commissioners, and devote some of their time to the question of amending the laws so that the wives and the children of convicts can get a "square deal." As the matter now stands many innocent women and children are much more severely punished by the incarceration of their husbands, their fathers or their sons, because the punishment of incarceration deprives them of needed support, and they, suddenly thrown upon their own resources, without preparation or training do not know how to earn a living, and in consequence, laboring under the stigma of the crime attached to the one in the penitentiary, they suffer mental agony and physical anguish. The statutes need to be amended so that the one in the penitentiary can be permitted to earn something that he can send to his family, and the state should see to it that he earns it and that it is sent to the ones who need it. Will the two distinguished candidates for governor please commit themselves upon this vital issue?

Texas ought to occupy the highest place in the treatment of those unfortunates who have gone astray. A good start has already been made, but there is a great deal yet to be done; and a governor can do more than any one else to lead the way. Everywhere that courts are held, men are sent to the penitentiary for small derelictions and men are freed of large crimes, because of the fact that a poor man can not get justice under our present system of court procedure, and the indifference of the public. There are throughout this great state many children, hungry and cold, whose fathers were sent to the penitentiary just because they had no friends and no political influence. The people must be educated up to a knowledge of the injustice of the law, and the supreme indifference of themselves to matters of such vital importance.

It is bad enough to send these men to the penitentiary for first offenses, when by a spirit of leniency they might be reclaimed to their families and saved to the state, but it is much worse for the state to make slaves of them, and sell their labor for a mere bagatelle, to enrich contractors who are already wealthy. The suspended sentence law gave district judges some latitude to help those who were convicted for the first time, but the court of criminal appeals decided that the law was unconstitutional. When the constitution gets in the way of such humanitarian measures it is time to change it. The suspended sentence statute is a good law, and we need to go along with this law that will enable convicts to work for their families even though they are deprived of their liberty. Then Texas can hold up her head among the states of this great union.

BEAUTIFUL DEVOTION.

In the destruction of the Titanic the devotion of Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Strauss was a beautiful demonstration of that love and comradeship that should characterize the home and the marriage relation. For many years they had lived together, and had loved and comforted one another. Although Mr. Strauss urged his wife to go into a life boat and leave him, she would not, but died with him when the mighty ship went down, doubtless locked in his arms. When love is strong enough that one is willing to die when the other dies, it has reached the climax. But it is just as strong and just as sweet where love is willing that the wife may be saved, while the husband is left behind to become the bride of the waves. The Titanic's destruction furnished the world many lessons, and doubtless that is just why it was permitted to go down upon that night of a million stars, when they twinkled upon the surface of the ocean, and were mirrored in the depths of its placid bosom; but there was no lesson more valuable to the happiness of mankind than that beautiful picture of a wife's devotion manifested when Mrs. Strauss clung to her husband, and together they went down beneath the waves. Their example will live forever, and that point off Cape Race where so many have met death will always be hallowed with the memory of this immortal love, standing out above the gloom of the night and the sorrow of the awful catastrophe.

Roosevelt has the most vaulting ambition that any man of modern times has yet manifested. He occupied the highest place in the land. He had been crowned with every honor within the gift of the people of the United States, he was trusted, honored, loved and he was rich. He was held in higher esteem than any other citizen of the United States. He was the greatest living private citizen. He was known all over the civilized world, and had, perhaps, impressed the world with his personality more than any other living man. What more could he want? Where would his vaulting ambition lead him? But he was not satisfied. He wanted power. He craved further notoriety, and to gain power and notoriety he began a campaign for the presidency, running against his friend, the president, whom he elected, and whom he told the people was worthy and well qualified, a man whom he had trusted as his advisor. He has gone so far in his desire to grasp again this power that his heart craves, that he has given way to fierce invective against the president of the United States.

A CRISIS IS AT HAND.

Nature is inexorable in her ways. She is kind and considerate and patient, but when a person or a nation has been thoroughly tried and tested and found inadequate for the responsibilities placed upon them, nature relieves them of the burden, and some one else is chosen for the purpose. When there are great deeds to be performed and great sacrifices to be made in the name of humanity, there are always willing men to make the sacrifice. In the evolution of the great eternal plan, which has been in course of progress ever since the world began, it is often necessary that men yield up their lives and nations be tried and tested with the horrors of war, before the right men and the right nation are selected for the work of enlightening the other nations of the world. Men who lead a nation to greatness and nations who light the way to a higher civilization must not be selfish, but must be thoroughly imbued with a desire to do those things that will be the most helpful to those who now live and those who are to follow after. They must have in their hearts that willingness to suffer and to die that the world may be happier and better.

Out of the centuries that have fled, out of the superstitions and out of the passions of the years that lay close to the dawn of civilization, this great country has been evolved and its thought and opinion moulded. If it is to continue to move onward and upward it must have at its head men whose interests are unselfish and purely patriotic, men who can not be swerved from what they know is right, and men who do not crave power for power's sake, but who love the people and are willing to fight for their interests. To get such men, there must be a return to the old way of selecting them, and repudiate all petty politicians who would ride into office upon a popular prejudice just for the purpose of spoils. There is grave danger in the present presidential situation. It is serious when men who hold the highest office within the gift of this nation, and men who aspire to the highest office, travel about the country and spend large sums of money to be nominated, and while doing so they engage in talk about each other that low-brows use in a settlement of their arguments. The people ought to rebuke severely such men at the polls in November, and place in the white house a man who will dignify the office, and whose example is an inspiration for higher culture and better things.

We are now at a crisis in the history of this government. We are undergoing a radical change in governmental thought, and we need a wise and a just man as president to guide us over the rough and rocky shoals that we will be bound to cross with the ship of state. We need a man who will not plunge us into war, either actually or industrially; one who is progressively conservative, and one whose heart and whose mind is tuned to distinguish the voice of the people from the voice of the demagogue.

TAFT DESERTED BY ROOT IN OHIO FIGHT

Convinced That President Is Loser, He Flatly Refuses to Leave the Capital.

Special to The Morning News.

New York, May 14.—The American today publishes the following by Jas. J. Montague, its Washington correspondent:

"Mr. Taft must make his last ditch fight in Ohio next week without any help from Elihu Root. Root was advertised throughout Ohio as 'Roosevelt's secretary of state who will speak against him from the platform.' But at the eleventh hour, convinced that Taft is a loser, he flatly refused to leave Washington."

"This is merely additional proof of the fact that the reactionaries are deserting Taft. Of all the cabinet officers and senators advising for the grand Taft speech, which is to precede the primaries, only Secretary Nagel and Senators Burton and Townsend will appear."

"Mr. Taft has been compelled to fall back on his brother, Charles, for money to pay the bills, and on S. C. Laylin and Arthur I. Vorys for political advice. Incidentally, he is placing a good deal of reliance on his own powers of repartee. He will lead the fight himself and keep it up to the last possible minute."

"Flinn Assists Walter Brown." "Meanwhile William Flinn, the new Pennsylvania boss, is in Ohio counseling Walter Brown, the Roosevelt boss of that state, as to the best means of beating Taft."

"It has been learned that the colonel, who will make his first speech in Canton, will charge that President Taft appointed Judge Archbald, now under investigation, at the instance of Penrose."

"It will be further charged by the colonel that Taft, after abundant opportunities to find out all about Archbald, kept him on the bench."

"The revelations concerning Archbald brought out at the house investigation have been sent to Mr. Roosevelt for use in preparing this speech."

"To assist him in what he believes will be his knockout wallop at the president, Mr. Roosevelt will have Comptroller Prendergast of New York, Senators Clapp and Poindexter, Governor Stubbs and Representative Victor Murdock of Kansas, Oscar Strauss of New York, Governor Bradley of Missouri, and his manager, Senator Dixon."

"All these small arms will keep up a rapid fire while the Roosevelt 14-inch gun is in action. Never before was there such a political invasion of a state."

"Taft Retains Discouraged." "President Taft returned from Ohio deeply discouraged. He has at last had an opportunity to find out what is really going on. His determination to keep up the fight is not in the least abated, but his hope of victory seems to his friends shaken."

"West Virginia, a next-door state, will hold district and state conventions on Wednesday. The result, however, is absolutely by the primaries will be 16 more Roosevelt delegates. Washington will give him 14 delegates. The effect of these two deliveries will be more deadly than much oratory."

"California votes Tuesday next, and if Taft is overthrown there, there will not be much hope of Ohio."

"In all likelihood the whole fight will be ended after Ohio has voted. Only an even break will pass the decision along to Chicago. And it is for that reason that Mr. Taft, deserted by his former backers, is mad clear through and very badly company for the men who are obliged to follow him about."

STATE ELECTRIC MEDICAL ASSOCIATION MEETS HERE.

PRISON SENTENCES ARE ANNOUNCED TO FOUR MEN

T. E. Meadows, Charged With Horse Theft, to Appeal—Two-Year Terms for Three.

Judge Munroe of the Fifty-fourth district court had time, aside from hearing contested divorce cases Tuesday, to pass sentence upon four prisoners who had previously been convicted in his court. Among those who received penitentiary sentences were T. E. Meadows, charged with horse theft and given four years by a jury in the Fifty-fourth district court. It was with considerable difficulty that Judge Munroe made the prisoner at the bar understand the nature of the proceedings. On account of a defect in his hearing, Deputy Sheriff Alva Hatch was called upon to assist the judge. In loud tones he explained the proceedings. Meadows stated that he wished to appeal his case to the highest tribunal.

Barron Frye, a negro, convicted on a charge of forgery; W. M. Forrester, convicted on a charge of receiving stolen property, and Carey Ingram, charged with burglary, were each sentenced to two-year terms.

HOT-POINT DAY

SUCCESS IN WACO TOWN.

Saturday, May 11, was "Hot-point" day in Waco, as it was in all the principal cities of the world. Almost every housewife knows what is meant when one refers to "Hot-point." It simply means an improvement in electrical irons. According to the discriminating housewife who manages to keep thorough posted on such matters, the Hot-point is the one real electric iron, and it is a delight and a pleasure to use them. One of the largest sales of electric irons ever recorded in Waco was made last Saturday, when Hot-points were placed on special sale for one day only. The local dealers who handle the Hot-point, the Veezy Electric company and the Waco Electric and Supply company, state that they are prepared to fill all orders for the modern necessity on short notice. This is a gentle hint to the Waco housewife who has not already done so to go and get acquainted with the Hot-point.

DIVORCE DENIED WOMAN

SCREAMS IN COURT ROOM.

"Under the circumstances there was nothing left for me to do except to leave," said Mrs. Onie Woodward, plaintiff in a divorce suit against her husband, a traveling man, began screaming when the decree was not granted by the court.

Following the Woodward incident, the divorce suit instituted by Mrs. Melbie Lewis against Charles Lewis, battle for the custody of the 3-year-old daughter, pending the settlement of the suit, was waged. The child was ordered left with the mother until the suit is settled.

NEW HAMPSHIRE VOTES PLACED IN CLARK COLUMN

By The Associated Press.

Concord, N. H., May 14.—Four delegates at large and two from each of the two congressional districts to the democratic national convention at Baltimore pledged, but "morally" bound by a preferential vote for Speaker Clark, were elected by the democrats of New Hampshire today. There was applause in the state convention when the chairman mentioned the name of Gov. Wilson in his opening remarks, and in the debate over the question of instructions Wilson had some supporters. The Clark sentiment was clearly predominant, however. In its platform the convention favored a six-year term for president and ineligibility for a second term.

ROCKPORT, TEXAS, MAN IS BLOWN INTO HAY BY STORM

By The Associated Press.

Corpus Christi, Tex., May 14.—Rockport suffered considerable damage at noon today in a wind and electrical storm. A garage was completely demolished and its wreckage blown away while machinery was scattered for several hundred feet. Barns, outhouses and fences were destroyed.

Will Feden, aged 32, was blown into the bay and injured, but was rescued.

The rainfall was excessive, being estimated at four inches.

TAFT MEN CONTROL TENNESSEE CONVENTION

Expected Bolt of Roosevelt Men Does Not Take Place at Nashville.

By The Associated Press.

Nashville, Tenn., May 14.—Taft men are in complete control of the state republican convention. The expected bolt did not take place and the delegates to the national convention at large were instructed for Taft.

Roosevelt leaders threw up the sponge when the convention assembled tonight for the sake of harmony in the state convention and urged their followers to stand by the action of the convention when it was apparent that the report of the committee on credentials gave control to the Taft men.

"FATE" OF HUNNEWELL ALDERMEN WITH COURT

Mayors of Disrupted Town Present When Order Case Submitted to Kansas Tribunal.

Special to The Morning News.

Topeka, May 14.—The Hunnewell order case, involving briefs enough to fill a library, and costs equal to the revenues of Hunnewell for 20 years, was argued and submitted before the supreme court here today. Mrs. Ella Young, mayoress of the town which is now rent with civic strife, was an interested witness to the proceedings. The court will render no opinion in the case until June, at the earliest.

The state was represented by Attorney General Dawson, while A. M. Jackson of Winfield, represented the councilmen, who have refused to submit to the authority of a woman mayor.

The troubles of the mayoress of Hunnewell, now known the length and breadth of the land, are based upon the refusal of the aldermen to sanction her appointments. The order results from her appeal to the attorney general to force the city fathers to perform their official duties just as though a man, and not a woman, held the chief executive office.

FINANCIAL INTERESTS BETTING ON ROOSEVELT

Wall Street Is Convinced That Former President Will Win.

Special to The Morning News.

New York, May 14.—The betting element in Wall street appears to be convinced that Theodore Roosevelt will not only receive the republican nomination, but will be the next president of the United States. Betting today was even money that Roosevelt would be the republican nominee, and there were quite a few wagers made that the colonel would carry the Ohio primaries. Betting on this was also at even money, yet only a day or two ago Taft was the favorite at 7 to 5 on this proposition. The sporting element, going on past performances, took into consideration the fact that Roosevelt had carried Ohio by 186,000 votes, which caused the change in odds.

Several bets have been offered at 6 to 5 that Roosevelt will be the next president, with the provision imposed that the Ohio primaries favor him.

DAILY PAPER ON TRAIN.

Advertising Club to Print One On Way to Dallas.

Special to The Morning News.

Baltimore, May 14.—The exact hour of departure from Baltimore of the Dallas special, bearing the members of the Advertising Club of Baltimore who will attend the annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America, is 7:55 o'clock next Thursday morning. The place of starting is Camden station.

While the members are preparing to board the special train on time, Messrs. Walter S. Hamburger, vice president of the Baltimore club, and John E. Raine are getting material ready for the publication of the daily morning and afternoon newspaper on the train. There will be special editions for the towns at which the Dallas special will stop. Besides the Baltimore news, it will contain a column of news local to that town. It will be an eight-page paper and one of the few ever published on a train.

FAVOR FEMALE JUSTICES

Special to The Morning News.

Winston-Salem, N. C., May 14.—An endorsement of the movement for the appointment of women as justices of juvenile courts was voted at today's session of the State Federation of Women's clubs, in session here.

The organization also endorsed the movement launched by the Federated Women's clubs of the country for a mammoth peace monument to be placed at the entrance to the Panama canal.

Mrs. John Hays Hammond of Washington, was the principal speaker at tonight's session, telling of the work of the woman's department of the National Civic Federation.
